STEAMER HESPERIAN SINKS NEAR SCENE OF ATTACK; 1 PASSENGERS AND 13 OF CREW ARE YET MISSING

One Death Resulted After the Landing, Bringing Probable List of Dead Up to 26.

CAPTAIN LOYAL TO SHIP

He and Part of Crew Remained Aboard Until There was No Hope of Saving Her.

3,545 Bags of Mail Go Down With the Vessel.

Queenstown, September 6. — Six second cabin passengers, six third cabin passengers, and thirteen of the crew of the steamer Hesperian, torpedoed 150 miles off Queenstown Saturday evening, were unaccounted for tonight, according to revised figures issued by the Allan Line. This brings the probable death list, including Miss Carberry, of St. Johns, N. F., whose body is here, up to 26.

The captain of the Hesperian remained by his ship until it sank, while being taken into port. He declined to comment on the disaster for publication. Any official statement as to whether he believes his ship was a victim of a torpedo or a mine must come from the Admiralty, although the captain is quoted as having told an Allan Line official today that the Hesperian was torpedoed.

Most of the survivors, passengers and crew, will leave Queenstown tomorrow by special train and boat for Liverpool.

Much Mail on the Ship.

Captain Main and the officers who remained aboard the steamer while efforts were being made to tow her to port were able to save some of their effects before the ship plunged to the bottom, 78 miles southwest of Fastnet, not far from the scene of the attack, taking with her 3,545 bags of mail, much of it originating in neutral countries.

The flooding of the forward compartments, which caused the Hesperian to sink so much by the head as to throw the propellers out of the water, made the task of towing her to Queenstown impossible in the rough sea.

The names of the missing second cabin passengers follow: Miss Bannister, Mrs. Fisher, Joseph Fowler, Mrs. Hannah Fowler, Maria Jenkins and Miss Murray.

NO REPORT AT BERLIN.

German Newspapers Question Torpedoing of the Hesperian.

Berlin, via London, Sept. 6. — The German admiralty tonight had received no information regarding the Hesperian case. The sinking of the liner was officially commented upon as follows:

"It is more advisable to await more definite news as to whether the steamer was actually torpedoed, and, if so, under what conditions."

The news that the Hesperian had been destroyed by an explosion, was published only this afternoon. Definite statements that no lives had been lost, and that the steamer had floated until this morning, caused the German people to take the situation calmly. There are no indications of apprehension over the effect of the incident on German-American relations.

The newspapers abstain from comment aside from advising their readers, in the terms of a semi-official announcement to await more details, but in the headlines they indicate strong doubt as to the accuracy of press accounts of the circumstances.

"Torpedoed," is printed with a question mark, and one or two papers use the headline "German Torpedo, or British Mine?"

No report on the Hesperian from German official sources is expected for at least a week, as the submarines operating off that part of the British coast belong to a detachment recently sent out.

The admiralty had nothing to say today, when asked whether any report had been received on the Arabic or whether the missing submarine had returned, or was considered lost.

ROMAN PAPER COMMENTS.

Says It is Obvious Germany Does Not Mean to Keep Her Promises.

Rome, via Paris, Sept. 6. — The Messaggero, commenting on the sinking of the Hesperian, says:

"It is obvious Germany does not mean to keep her promises. Her submarines will continue to sink merchant ships without warning. This constitutes not only a new offense against the laws of humanity, but against the dignity and prestige of the American government, which sees contradicted by reality the solemn official assurance given by the representative of Germany to Washington."

WASHINGTON WAITS FOR FULL DETAILS

American Government Not Doubting Germany.

IN RECENT PROMISES

Theory Advanced That the Hesperian Struck Drifting Mine—Report That Vessel Carried Mounted Gun Still Unamended.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Nothing in today's advices regarding the sinking of the Allan liner Hesperian served to change the waiting attitude of the American government. Judgment is suspended pending complete information and, in spite of the reported statement of the Hesperian's captain that his ship was the victim of a torpedo and had no warning, high officials here are not disposed to question the good faith of Germany's recent assurances that her submarine commanders had been ordered to attack no more liners without warning.

Reports during the day from Ambassador Page added few details to the story told in the brief cablegram in which Consul Frost at Queenstown last night, announced that the vessel had been torpedoed with a loss of about eight lives, none of them Americans. The consul's statement that the ship carried on her stern a 4.7 inch gun went unamended, though the Allan Line officials have declared that she had no gun when she left Montreal.

Theory That Liner Hit Mine.

News that the crippled Hesperian had foundered while being towed toward Queenstown dissipated hope that an examination of her hull might prove beyond a doubt the nature of the wrecking explosion. The fact that the vessel was struck forward when well outside the zone in which the German submarines usually operate, has caused some veteran naval officers here to advance the theory thatshe struck a drifting mine. It is pointed out that Consul Frost reported that while the British admiralty believed the ship was torpedoed without warning there had been no official announcement to that effect, and that none of the accounts of the disaster speak of a submarine being sighted.

This being Labor Day, a legal holiday, all the government departments ewre closed. President Wilson and Secretary Lansing received copies of Ambassador Page's dispatches, however, and read carefully all newspaper reports from London and Queenstown. It is believed some word will come from Berlin as soon as it is possible for the German government to determine whether one of its U boats was responsible for the attack, and if so, under what circumstances.

LONDON REPORT OF SINKING.

Ambassador Page Has Given Instructions to Collect Evidence.

London, Sept. 6.—The Allan Line steamer Hesperian sank at 6:45 o'clock this morning within a few miles of Queenstown, after Captain Main and a volunteer rescue crew of 25 had made a brave fight to bring the crippled ship into port. During the night the Hesperian settled gradually by the head. Daylight showed the decks awash, and the liner about to take the final plunge.

The captain and crew were taken off by rescue boats and landed later in Queenstown by the steamer Empress.

The list of identified survivors still leaves a considerable number of persons unaccounted for. American Consul Frost at Queenstown wired to the American embassy today that the total loss of life might reach 20.

A Chronicle dispatch from Queenstown says Miss Carberry, an elderly passenger on the Hesperian, died from shock after being rescued and that another woman succumbed a short time after being taken aboard the rescue ship.

Mr. Frost's message said he had taken affidavits of the two American stewards on the Hesperian, Barney MacMillan, of Grand Rapids, Mich., and a man named Dallas, of Buffalo.

Instructed to Collect Evidence.

Lieut. Lewis B. McBride, naval attache of the American embassy, was on his way to Queenstown to collect evidence before he was aware that the vessel had sunk. Ambassador Page had instructed Lieutenant McBride to inspect the hull.

On learning that the vessel had gone down, the Ambassador decided not to recall the lieutenant, believing that he might still be able to gather useful evidence.

The American embassy received today a telegram from Horace L. Washington, American consul at Liverpool, saying he had been informed officially by the Allan Line that there were no Americans among the passengers, but that no figures were available regarding the number of Americans in the crew.

JAMES N. BOYD DIES

Widely Known as Cotton Financier and Several Times Millionaire.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 6.—James N. Boyd, aged 65, president of the Planters' National bank of this city and head of the James N. Boyd Tobacco Company, widely known throughout the South as a cotton financier and several times a millionaire, died at his home here tonight after a long illness.

JUSTICE KNOWLES IS KILLED FROM AMBUSH

Assassin of Rhode Island Judge is Unknown.

Police Inquiry Developed That He Had Feared for His Life for Some Time—Was Shot From Roadside Near Summer Home.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 6.—Willis S. Knowles, for the past seven years justice of the Eighth district court, was shot to death near his summer home on Lake Moswaniscut, in North Scituate, today. The assassin, who fired from bushes by the roadside, escaped.

The police were searching for a man who formerly accompanied the justice on hunting expeditions in the hope that he may throw some light on the dead man's personal affairs that will suggest a motive for the killing.

Justice Knowles, born in Ohio, in 1868, was admitted to the Rhode Island bar in 1898. He was unmarried. He had an office in this city and a home in Cranston. This summer he had occupied a bungalow on the lake and employed Mrs. Cora Wardell as a housekeeper.

Mrs. Wardell said he left the bungalow to catch a trolley car leaving for Providence at 8 o'clock this morning. He had been gone only a minute or two when she heard a man's voice calling: "Now I've got you, judge!"

Three shots followed. Running out to the highway, Mrs. Wardell found the justice dead with two bullet wounds in his back and one in his jaw.

The police inquiry developed that the judge had for some time feared for his life. He had confided to intimates that he had enemies who had written him threatening letters. A month ago he had stated to friends, he narrowly escaped being shot when approaching the bungalow.

Two foreigners found in the vicinity were detained today but later were exonerated of any connection with the crime.

Justice Knowles was furthering organization of a society that planned a campaign against violators of the fish and game laws. He also had taken part in a movement to bring a close police supervision of drinking places.

Takes Himself to The Penitentiary

WATAUGA MAN PAYS WAY TO RALEIGH AND THEN IS REFUSED ADMISSION TO STATE'S PRISON—TELEGRAPHS

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 6. — Robert L. Walls, a white man, of Watauga county, today applied for entrance to the State prison to serve a term of three and a half years for manslaughter. He was refused admission because he was not accompanied by a sheriff or deputy, this held as the law, though Walls had the proper commitment papers.

Walls, who is a farmer, and who paid his own railroad fare here, has telegraphed at his own expense to Boone for the sheriff to come and get him into prison. Walls served in the United States volunteer army, 37th infantry, in the Philippines, and was honorably discharged.

MOST EXTENSIVE WAR GAME HAS COMMENCED

Destroyer Fleet in Target Practice Off Virginia

Battleships of Atlantic Fleet Will Also Soon Begin Maneuvers—Longer and More Thorough Drill Than Ever Before.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The most comprehensive target practice ever planned by the Navy Department was begun today by destroyers of the Atlantic fleet on the Southern drill grounds off the Virginia Capes. The battleships themselves will begin target practice September 13.

Not only will the target practice be unusually thorough, but the war games which will follow will be longer and will more nearly approach actual war conditions than ever before.

One of the features of the drill will be movements by the fleet as a whole as distinguished from division movements, hitherto the largest unit of maneuvering on such occasions. The fleet drill is one which Admiral Fletcher himself has worked out. The details are not to be made public. The admiral will come to Washington this week to confer with Secretary Daniels and Rear Admiral Benson, chief of operations, on the work of the fleet immediately after the war games.

REFERS TO WILSON AS LOVER OF PEACE

Bryan's Remarks on the President Meet With Applause.

BY "FRIENDS OF PEACE"

Convention Declares for Freedom of Seas and Opposes Manufacture of Death-Dealing Implements for Profit—Resolutions.

Chicago, Sept. 6. — Prolonged applause greeted William J. Bryan during his address at the National convention of the Friends of Peace today, when he said: "I want you to be thankful that this country's President loves peace, and is trying, with every means at his disposal, to preserve our country's peace."

Shortly before the delegates had cheered Congressman Henry Vollmer, of Iowa, when he attacked the administration for permitting export of war munitions to Europe.

Before adjournment, the convention instructed its officers to make known to President Wilson and Congress the purposes of the "Friends of Peace," as embodied in resolutions styled a "New Declaration of Independence."

The "declaration" made no formal demand for an embargo on war munitions but declared for freedom of the seas to all commerce, including that with all belligerent nations, and opposed manufacture of death-dealing implements for profit.

The officers also were instructed to draw up bills embodying these principles for presentation to the next Congress.

At the afternoon session Jeremiah A. O'Leary, of New York, one of the speakers, called the Rev. G. C. Berkemier, a German-American delegate, and Rev. J. H. S. Sommerville, an Anglo-American delegate, to the speaker's stand, and requested them to clasp hands as a visible refutation of charges that the convention was pro-German.

Embraces and Kisses Minister.

Rev. Berkemeir, a Lutheran minister, clasped Sommerville, an Episcopal rector, in his arms, and kissed him on both cheeks, while the audience burst into frantic applause.

Mr. Bryan confined his address to a discussion of the ethics of warfare and the duty of citizens to do all in their power not to endanger the country's peace. In part, he said:

"We must not be too hasty to criticise those in official positions, who, as I know from experience, are often misrepresented and misunderstood. I think the President has not always been given full credit for his efforts to preserve peace. You will recall that when I resigned from the cabinet I said that the President and I did not differ in our desire to maintain peace, but only as to the means to the end.

"This war proves that preparedness is not a preventive of war. If the dogs of war must fight in Europe, let them fight; but let us avoid hydrophobia in this country. If we ever have war, I demand that the jingo editors of this country make up the front line of battle."

NEGROES PARTIALLY IDENTIFIED

Two Suspects Believed to Have Been Seen Near Scene of Mohr Murder.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 6.—An attempt was made today to break down the alibi of two ofthe three negroes detained in connection with the murder of Dr. C. Franklin Mohr. Samuel Selley and Archibald Ducharm, of this city, made what police said was a partial identification of Victor Brown and Henry Spellman as the negroes they had seen Tuesday night on the Nayatt road near the spot where Dr. Mohr was killed and his secretary, Miss Emily G. Burger, wounded while in the stalled automobile.

War News at a Glance

Twenty-six lives is the probable toll of the attack on the Allan Line steamer Hesperian which, officers, crew and passengers say, was the victim of a torpedo. One woman died from shock and 25 persons are missing. The Hesperial lies at the bottom of the ocean only a few miles from the spot where she was stricken.

Official information regarding the cause of the explosion which sunk the steamer is lacking. The judgment of Washington is in abeyance pending complete information. London has not yet made public the official report of the Hesperian's captain. Berlin is silent, having no reports from submarines operating in that particular vicinity.

Along the battle fronts the situation is little changed. The Germans and Austrians claim further progress in Russia and Galicia. The big guns of both sides are doing the greater part of the work in Belgium and France and along the Austro-Italian front.

The Germans evidently have been unable to follow up extensively their success on the Dvina near Friedrichstadt, for Berlin says the situation from the Baltic to east of Grodno remains unchanged. Farther South, however, Von Hindenburg, Prince Leopold and Von Mackensen continue to advance.

The Russians in Eastern Galicia are disputing the Austrian attempt to push them across the border into Russion territory. East of Lutsk the Austrians have finally made their way across the marshy district.

In reprisal for a German aerial raid on Luneville, a squadron of French aeroplanes had bombarded Saarbrucken, in the province of the Rhine, Prussia.

Two additional British steamers have met with disaster, either from submarines or mine—the tanker Cymbeline, of whose crew six were killed and the steamer Mimosa. The men on the latter vessel were saved.

GERMAN MENACE TO RIGA IS GROWING

Railway Communication to the South is Cut Off.

CLAIM TO HOLD GULF

Prince Leopold and Von Mackensen Are Said to be Advancing in the South. Artillery Duel in the West is Unabated.

London, Sept. 6.—The menace to Riga, the important Russian seaport on the Baltic, is becoming more serious. The Germans still hold the bridgehead at Friedrichstadt, effectively cutting off Riga's railway communication to the south, and German aircraft are active in the gulf, perhaps presaging another naval clash as part of a concerted German move to complete the isolation of the port.

According to an unofficial Berlin dispatch, the Germans claim possession of the gulf, the Russians having abandoned Dagoe, the northernmost of the three islands just outside the gulf.

Today's Berlin official communication lays no claim to further progress by Von Hindenburg from the Baltic to Grodno, but further south Prince Leopold and Von Mackensen are said to be advancing. The Austrian official statement records nothing but Teutonic gains in the extreme south.

The great artillery duel in the West goes on unabated, with the Allies the aggressors. The fact that it has continued for a fortnight unabated leads to the belief in some quarters that it may mean preparation for an allied offensive before the approach of cold weather.

GERMAN TRENCHES DAMAGED.

Artillery Actions Continue All Along Western Front.

Paris, Sept. 6.—An official communication issued today says artillery actions continue along the whole front with particular damage to the German trenches in the sector north of Arras, and announces that in reprisal for the air raid on Luneville, September 1, 40 French aeroplanes this morning bombarded the station, works and military establishments of Saarbrucken.

"The aviators noted that the results attained were considerable," says the statement.

FIGHTING IN THE WEST

German and French Batteries Take Part in Artillery Engagements.

Paris, Sept. 6.—Violent artillery fighting continued last night in the vicinity of Arras, Roclincourt and Bretencourt, both German and French batteries taking part. There were also artillery exchanges in the Champagne district according to the official report given out this afternoon by the French war office.

SEES ENTIRE BRITISH FLEET PUTTING TO SEA

Correspondent Takes View of Great Britain's Navy.

Destroyers Protect Great Fighting Ships From Attacks of the German Submarines—Seemingly Endless Column of Ships.

London, Sept. 5.—(Delayed)—During his visit to the British battle fleet last week the correspondent, after boarding all of the more important ships, witnessed a magnificent spectacle—that of the whole force putting to sea.

While on board the flagship of Admiral Sir John Jellicoe a message was brought to the commander-in-chief He called a secretary and word was passed around that the whole fleet had been ordered to proceed to sea. Soon the great procession of naval power made its exit, lead by graceful light cruisers and flotillas of destroyers.

"But are not German submarines waiting outside?" was asked.

"No doubt two or three are always there," an officer replied, "but the destroyers know how to keep them off."

Cutting through choppy waves and leaving foaming wakes, the destroyers, attendant sattellites of the great fighting ships, ran in and out at their superior speed as busy as bees. The destroyers were always on the move, flotilla blinking its signals to flotilla. Then came the first dreadnought, and others of all classes since her evolution of naval warfare, up to the latest type, the Queen Elizabeth.

Eight, sixteen, twenty dreadnoughts were counted as they went past with clock work regularity, and out of other smoke clouds in the harbor more dreadnoughts were coming before the King Edward VII and other pre-dreadnought clashes had their turn.

The commander of the destroyer which the correspondent was aboard looked at his watch and said it was time to go, as he must take his appointed place in the fleet.

At 30 knots an hour he cut across the bow of a battleship, taking his guests to the landing place. As the destroyer rounded the head land the

CARRANZA TROOPS NOT TAKING PART

Mexican Chief Denies Implication in Border Fighting.

IS AVOIDING TROUBLE

Message to Washington Representative Tells of Instructions to Gen. Nafarette—Firing Across Border Disavowed.

Washington, Sept. 6.—General Carranza today sent an emphatic denial from Vera Crux to Eliseo Arredondo, his Washington representative, that Carranza troops had taken any part in the recent disturbances along the Texas border.

"I have issued instructions to General Nafarette," said General Carranza's telegram, "to avoid energetically any act that may cause any international complications on the border. Deny emphatically that our troops have either taken part in the disturbances of Texas, or that they allow the organizations of such bands of disturbers."

Arredondo, in making the message public, added this comment:

"If the American government makes a careful investigation it will become convinced that such bands who are making trouble on the border have other origin and are directed by people who have no connection whatever with the constitutionalist government and who reside under the jurisdiction of the authorities of this country."

General Funston's dispatches during the day, forwarding reports from Brownsville, indicated that Carranzista soldiers had been firing across the border, but explained that General Nafarette had disavowed the shooting and offered to co-operate in preventing further disturbances. It was presumed Carranza's instructions to his commander had been subsequent to recent disturbances.

CARRANZA OFFICIALS KILLED

State of Tabasco Has Revolted—Women and Children Killed on Streets.

Vera Cruz, (via Havana), Sept. 6.—The major portion of the State of Tabasco has revolted against Carranza. Street fighting in San Juan Bautista, capital of the state, and in Frontera, on the coast, resulted in the killing of General Colorado, the Carranza governor, the chief of police and the secretary of state.

Many women and children were killed on the streets. The Carranza officials remaining seized a boat at Frontera and escaped to Vera Cruz.

According to reports Tabasco is making an effort to join the state of Oaxaca in maintaining independence of Carranza. Oaxaca revolted last June.

Americans arriving overland from Oaxaca say thousands of natives are starving or have died as the result of eating poisoned roots. Railroad communication between Vera Cruz and Mexico City is precarious as a result of bandit raids. Latest details regarding the blowing up of trains at Cameron, 20 miles outside of Vera Cruz, by forces opposed to Carranza, show

ALL SINGING PRAISES OF PRESIDENT WILSON

For Great Diplomatic Victory in Submarine Controversy.

Commissioner Osborn Reports That All Parties in North Carolina Are Praising the President—Osborn's Record.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—North Carolina is raising more corn and wheat this year than ever before in the history of the State; tobacco and cotton are in good shape, and the entire State, regardless of political faith, is praising President Wilson for his great diplomatic victory in settling the German submarine question.

This was the statement made by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Osborn upon his return here tonight from a six weeks vacation in North Carolina and Virginia. Colonel Osborn spent some time at Greensboro and also visited many other sections of the State and wound up his vacation with his old college friend, Col. Jones, of Danville, one of the largest tobacco merchants in that section of the Old Dominion.

"I think I am conservative when I say that North Carolina will raise more wheat and corn this year than ever before," said the Commisioner at his office today. "I never saw crops look better and as a whole every one seems to be in a prosperous condition. I saw many corn fields where there was growing two stalks to the hill, and three ears to the stalk. The cotton crop seems good, as does also the tobacco crop.

"I did not talk with a single man, regardless of his politics, who was not ready and willing to sing the praises of President Wilson for his great diplomatic victory over the German submarine controversy. He seems to be the most popular man in the South and he deserves all the good that has been said about him."

Has Remarkable Record.

Colonel Osborn is one man in the government service whom "Uncle Sam" can willingly give a vacation without

DUMBA TO EXPLAIN ACTION TO LANSING

Regarding Plan to Handicap American Munitions Plants.

HAVE INTERVIEW TODAY

Suggested Plans to Austrian Foreign Office to Prevent Austro-Hungarians Working in American Munitions Plants.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Secretary Lansing today granted an interview at the State Department tomorrow to Dr. Constantin Theodor Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, who desires to discuss published reports that he has taken part in a movement to interfere with production of war materials in the United States.

It is understood the ambassador wishes to make an explanation regarding dispatches sent by him to the foreign office at Vienna and seized by British authorities from James F. J. Archibald, an American war correspondent, who was acting as messenger.

These dispatches, which are said to reveal that the ambassador suggested plans for handicapping munitions plants and had undertaken to warn Austro-Hungarian subjects that they were violating the criminal code of their native land by accepting employment in American establishments making war supplies for the Allies, are declared to have raised a question for which there is no precedent. The question of dual citizenship, long disputed between this government and several European powers is involved, and because of this the matter will be approached, when Ambassador Dumba arrives, without prejudice.

Officials doubt that there has been any violation of law. As to whether there has been a breach of diplomatic propriety or international ethics, Secretary Lansing must decide after he has heard the Austrian ambassador's statement.

Copies of papers taken from Archibald in London have been forwarded to the State Department by Ambassador Page. They had not reached here tonight, but it was understood Dr. Dumba would take other copies with him when he called at the State Department.

The State Department has no information other than the ambassador's statement that he was coming to Washington to see Secretary Lansing. His frank statement of his activities, however, was received with undisguised surprise in official circles.

Lenox, Mass., Sept. 5.—The right to call a strike of Austro-Hungarian workers in the country's big steel mills engaged in filling war orders for the allies, was claimed by Dr. Constantino Theodore Dumba, ambassador from Austria-Hungary to the United States, in a statement issued tonight at the summer embassy here.

Dr. Dumba said he intended to leave tomorrow for Washington to explain his position to Secretary of State Lansing.

The statement was called forth by dispatches from London published in the New York World making public

BERNSTORFF'S MESSAGE TO AMERICA DISPLEASES

Dissatisfaction is Expressed by Berlin Vossische Zeitung.

"Must Not Be Taken as Admission of Guilt in Past Procedures or Indication of Fear or Weakness," it Says.

Berlin, Sept. 6 (via London).—The Vossische Zeitung discussing "the agreement with America" impliedly expresses dissatisfaction at the message conveyed by Ambassador Bernstorff to the Washington authorities, and declares:

"Complete unanimity reigns in Germany in the wish to maintain unaltered peace between Berlin and Washington, but Ambassador Bernstorff's explanation must not be taken either as an admission of any guilt in past procedures or as an indication of fear or weakness. It must be specifically pointed out that submarine warfare against merchant vessels will be carried on now as formerly—and, it is to be hoped, with unremitting vigor.

"Our admissions to America have restrictions. Our agreement counts only in case British passenger steamers do not try to harm our submarines. If Great Britain in the future believes it will be possible to deal lightly with the lives of American citizens she will have to bear the consequences as before. Through our steps we have proved to Americans—if it were necessary—in the most loyal way how highly we value the relations existing between them and us. It is surely known in leading circles in the United States that even a declaration of war by America against Germany could no longer do real harm to the German cause."

The Vossische Zeitung discusses peace rumors at length and declares Great Britain sees its salvation in such a move.

The editorial concludes with the declaration that peace is possible with every opponent of Germany except Great Britain which "forced on us the difficult task of conducting a world war. We, however, wish first a decision and then a peace that shall accord with this decision."

St. Louis, Sept. 6.—Willet, Groom and Crandall, stars of the St. Louis Federals' pitching staff, failed to hold Chicago in the first inning of the first game of a doubleheader here today, and the visitors scored three runs, a lead which the home team could not overcome. St. Louis tied the score in the eighth, but in the eleventh Mann went around the bases on singles and scored the winning run 5 to 4 on Doolan's bunt.

The second game was called on account of rain, at the end of the fifth with the score of 2 to 2.

United States Golf Association Championship Tournament.

Chicago, September 6. — Mrs. Charles H. Vanderbeck, of the Philadelphia cricket club, eastern woman golf champion, today led 105 contestants in the qualifying round of the United States Golf Association championship tournament at the Onwentsia Club, scoring 41, 44, 85 for the 18 holes This established a woman's record for the reconstructed course, which is 6,453 yards long, with a woman's par of 84.

Miss Lillian Pyde, of South Shore club, Long Island, N. Y., Metropolitan and Florida champion, barely missed a putt on the last green for a tie with Mrs. Vanderbeck, finishing 43, 43, 86.

Brooklyn, Sept. 6.—Brooklyn went into second place in the pennant race today by defeating Philadelphia, the league leaders, in two games. The morning game was won 6 to 3, and the afternoon game 7 to 3. Brooklyn now is within two games of the Phillies.

A rally in the eighth decided the morning game, when the home team scored five runs on four hits, two passes and an error. In the afternoon Pfeffer held the Phillies to five hits, four of which were bunched in the seventh and eighth innings. The Dodgers batted Rixey out of the box in four innings, and also hit Baumgardner hard.

Rixey, Baumgardner, Tincup and Killifer and Burns; Pfeffer and McCarty.

St. Louis, Sept. 6.—St. Louis set Chicago back into the second division by winning a double header today 3 to 2 and 10 to 0. The first game went 12 innings and was a duel between Pierce and Sallee. The former weakened in the 12th, and after filling the bases was replaced by Lavender. The latter hit Hyatt on the ankle with his spit ball, forcing the winning run.

In the second contest Humphries gave 17 hits before the game was called in the eighth on account of darkness.

New York, Sept. 6.—New York won both games of a double header from Boston today, taking the morning contest 5 to 2 and scoring a 4 to 0 shutout in the afternoon.

Hughes, who started the first game for Boston, weakened in the fifth after his team had scored two runs. Merkle's home run with Robertson on base put New York ahead in the sixth, and Tyler was hammered for two more runs in the eighth.

In the afternoon Tesreau held Boston to two singles. Snodgrass' muff of an easy fly let in two Giants in the fourth.

Boston . . . . . 000 020 000—2 7 1

CHAMPIONSHIP RECORDS OF TRACK AND FIELD BROKEN

Philadelphia, Sept. 6. — Five district records were broken in the annual Middle Atlantic A. A. U. track and field championships here today.

James E. Meredith, the University of Pennsylvania, representing the Meadow Brook Club, won the quarter mile runs in the record time of 50 2-5.

Other record breakers were H. E. Barron, Mercury A. C., who won the 120 hurdles in 16¼; James J. Comeford, Shanahan C. C., who put the shot 42 feet 10¼ inches; J. Levick Brecheim, of the Germantown B. C., who threw the javelin 149 feet and 4 inches, and Fred Hasselberg, Mercury A. C., who threw the discus 109 feet ½ inch.

Winter Park Beats Commercial Men.

In a hotly contested game of baseball yesterday the Winter Park team won over the Wilmington Commercial men by a score of 6 to 3. The game was played on the Winter Park ball field and was well attended. The battery for the winners was composed of Page and Haar, while that for the Commercial Men was composed of Gordon and Hawkins.

Boston, Sept. 6.—Portland, managed by Hugh Duffy, former star out-fielder of the Boston Nationals, won the pennant of the New England League which closed its season today.

RENEWAL OF CHARTER OAK STAKE WAS TAME AFFAIR

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 6.—The thirteenth renewal of the Charter Oak stake, the feature of the Grand Circuit meeting here each year, this time for 2:08 trotters and a purse of $5,000 was the tamest race in the history of this classic of the trotting turf.

Peter Scott, Murphy's bay stallion, was an easy first in straight heats, having no contenders in the field of four horses that started the race. Of 12 horses eligible, eight were scratched, among them Lee Axworthy, who has been in poor shape since last week's race at the New York meeting. Geers drove Bonnington, and his ability to keep him in his stride in the first two heats caused Murphy to go after the final heat in the fastest time of the race, 2:07 1-4, which ended in a break of Bonnington that cost him an opportunity for second money.

Juarez, Mex., Sept. 6.—Bobby Waugh, of Dallas, Texas, was awarded a decision over Battling Nelson, at the end of a 20-round bout tonight. The fight was fast throughout. Nelson showed all his old-time ability to take punishment, but lacked steam and cleverness to cope with his younger opponent.

Canton, Ohio, Sept. 6.—Jack Britton, of Chicago, and Johnny Griffiths, of Akron, fought twelve hard rounds to a draw here this afternoon.

VIRGINIA LEAGUE HAS FINISHED THE SEASON

Portsmouth Wins Pennant For Second Half

Great Crowd Sees Tar Heels Defeat Petersburg Remnants on Former's Diamond on Labor Day in Both Games.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 6.—Portsmouth won the second half of the Virginia Baseball League season today by defeating Norfolk in the morning game. There will be a post season series with Rocky Mount, winner of the first half, for championship of the league.

The series will begin on Wednesday, when the two teams meet in Rocky Mount. Seven games will be played and the winner of four will be given the championship pennant.

Rocky Mount, N. C., Sept. 6. — A great holiday gathering saw the Tar Heels administer the second defeat of the day to the Orphans this afternoon and ring down the curtain on the scheduled season in the Virginia League. Despite the fact that the game had no significance in the final wind-up, whatever, the clash was hard fought throughout, and the Tar Heels were the victors, because they hit the ball harder and more often than their opponents.

Camnitz was in trouble often and was hit hard in the pinches, while with one Gray drove over the right field fence for a homer in the third. On the other hand Leake was effective throughout, and it was only after he had annexed a lead did he give up safe ones in connected order.

Rocky Mount . . .102 000 20x—5 11 2

After the homeless ones had apparently tucked away the morning game by a score of 1 to 2, the Tar Heels chased up from behind in the eighth and a two-base clout, followed by a three-base board ripper and then a single gave the Down Homers the victory. The game was attended by a small holiday crowd, and a morning sun played its part in the opener, when Bittle slashed to left for two corners, was sacrified to third and corners when Camnitz fielded Edwards' foul fly. The Orphans equalled this in the third, when Hartzell was pounded on the hip. Stealing second, he advanced to third on a sacrifice out and scored after two were down, when Eisel mixed the sun with a fly ball and it dropped safe. It was in the next season that the excommunicated club took a lead, when Parmelee singled, was sacrificed to second and scored on Hirsch's hit to right for a base.

The TarHeels made their getaway of the game in the eighth, when, after Bittle had singled and was retired at second when Goosetree was given life, Gray hit to left for two bases and the man on first completed the circuit, Eisel then ripped the boards in right for a three-base clout and Gray tallied. Snyder singled and Eisel counted, ending the scoring. The game was a hard fought clash through, through the Orphans club apepared at a marked disadvantage in that they had only nine men on the local lot, three of their number having missed the train.

WILMINGTON DIVIDES HONORS IN BALL GAME

Takes One Game of Double-Header from Red Springs

Visitors Win Game in First and Fourth Innings—Holiday Crowd Witness Games—Wilmington Plays Good Game.

In two fast games at Sunset Park yesterday, Wilmington divided evenly with Red Springs, losing the first game, 5 to 2, and winning the second, 3 to 2. In the first game Register allowed only seven hits and struck out eight men, and he deserved to win. The first and fourth innings proved the undoing of the home boys; that old combination of hits by the visitors, and a measley error or two on our side, the "fireworks flares brilliantly, and when the smoke has cleared away" we see the scorer filling the space allotted to the opposing team.

In the second game Green kept the seven hits of the visitors well scattered, and the home boys made nine hits behind him, and he won his game. Between 600 and 700 people saw the games, and at times when the locals pulled off some of their sensational plays, the noise was fairly deafening. The games were interspersed with some plays bordering on the brilliant; and while all of the boys played consistently, the fast fielding of R. Burnett, the hitting of Morton, Boswell and Bundy and the pitching of Green, could be recorded as featuring.

The Red Springs team leaves this morning for home, and will go to Charlotte tonight, where they will meet the winners of the series now running in the western part of the State, for the championship. Below the games are given by innings:

First Game.

First Inning: B. Rowe draws four wide ones, and steals second; R. Rowe hits for two bags, scoring "Buddy." Gaston misses three; Red Rows steals on around to third, and races home on C. Burnett's high throw; Folger fans; Utley walks and steals second; Kohler pops out to catcher; two runs. For the Kiters, Hines out, pitched to first; Morton fans; Boswell out, third to first. No runs.

Second Inning: Turner fans; Mohart goes out, short to first; Ingle safe on slow one down first base line; B. Rowe flies out to left. No runs. For Wilmington: Bundy fans; R. Burnett goes out, third to first; Houston flies out to center. No runs.

Cleanse The Blood Banish Rheumatism

Rheumatism Due to Bad Blood. S. S. S. Your Remedy

Thousands have been made well. People in the poorest health, suffering from Rheumatism, with whom pain was constant. Who believed that their vitality was sapped beyond repair. It was proven to them that the cause of their trouble was the blood; that Uric Acid, the most faithful ally of Rheumatism, had gripped them. The poison in the blood had sapped its strength. The weakened blood had allowed poison and impurities to accumulate, and all energy was gone. They felt "poorly," were listless, pain was ever present, with poor digestion and dyspepsia. They tried S. S. S.,—nature's blood tonic. They gave up drugs. This compound of nature's remedies of roots and herbs did what drugs failed to do. It literally washed the blood free from poison, and with the flow of pure blood came back health, strength, vigor and happiness. Get S. S. S. from your druggist. Insist upon S. S. S. TO FURNISH HOME FOR WOMEN OF CONFEDERACY

Mrs. Hunter G. Smith Appeals For Private Contributions

In Order That Institution Provided by State at Fayetteville May be Opened Early in October—The Building About Complete.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, Sept. 6. — In a ringing appeal to the people of the State, Mrs. Hunter G. Smith, of this city, chairman of the advisory board of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which will be in charge of the Home for Confederate Women, is asking the patriotic men and women of North Carolina for contributions towards the furnishing of the Home so that it may be opened in October. The Home is nearing completion and it is the earnest desire of the committee to have it thrown open for occupancy at the earliest possible date after the contractors have turned the building over to the directors.

It is the committee's idea, of course, to have the Home furnished in a way that will be worthy in every respect of the traditions back of the splendid women who will occupy it and of the spirit which prompted its erection. It was the mind of Mrs. Smith which conceived the plan of establishing this practical memorial to the North Carolina women of the Confederacy, and she is one of that small band of women who have worked untiringly for its completion and who are still bending their energies to the end that it be made a home worthy to be a gift from the State of North Carolina to the heroic women who stood back of the Lost Cause.

Mrs. Smith's Appeal.

Mrs. Smith's appeal is as follows:

"The Confederate Women's Home, at Fayetteville, is nearing completion, and in every respect it will be an ideal home for the survivors of the followers of Lee and Jackson. And now it behooves every loyal son and daughter in North Carolina to lend a helping hand in the furnishing of this noble institution that the State has given us; and contributions, large or small, will be greatly appreciated, and promptly received will enable us to throw open the doors of the Home in October, 1915, and make glad the hearts of many anxious ones awaiting its opening.

"One might exhaust one's vocabulary in a vain endeavor to present this cause eloquently and yet not offer one argument so forcible as the letters on file from these dear old souls begging for a Home. Some are written in the trembling, old-fashioned characters that remind us of the 'sacred records' somewhere fondly treasured, from our own dear mothers. When you remember how they were protected and reverenced, how can you resist the plea of 'somebody's mother,' when she writes: 'I am old and tired, and only in the way,' usually ending with a fervent 'God bless you, and please get me into the Home?'

"Let us rally to the furnishing of this Home, and send in our contributions at once. Clocks, household furnishings, pantry supplies, etc., are all acceptable. Upon us devolves the duty of bringing sweetness and light into the evening of life and throwing about the weary and the worn the bulwark of loving shelter and protection.

"Mrs. HUNTER G. SMITH,
"Chairman Women's Confederate Home."

TO RETURN TO SEMINARY

Rev. Broadus Jones to Leave Newbern Within Few Days.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., Sept. 5.—Announcement has been made that Rev. Broadus Jones, who came to Newbern several months ago and assumed the assistant pastorate of the Tabernacle Baptist church, is to leave Newbern on September 12, going to Mercer University, Georgia, to conclude his studies for the ministry. Only 18 years of age, this young preacher is a marvel and has been heard by thousands since coming to Newbern. He is of the type better known as a "born" preacher and his knowledge of the scripture is indeed wonderful. Not only is he thoroughly conversant with the teachings of the Bible but he is an eloquent speaker and never fails to hold his hearers spellbound. At his departure Rev. R. W. Thiot, the regular pastor, will be in full charge of all church services.

THE SILVER LINING

Increase of Assessments May Enable Greensboro to Issue Bonds.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., ept. 6.—The fact that the Corporation Commission has increased real estate values in Guilford county 10 per cent. makes it certain that the city of Greensboro can issue bonds for extending the sewer lines of the city if the people will vote favorable to the measure. As the law now permits no city to issue bonds in excess of ten per cent. of its taxable values, Greensboro might not have been able to have issued more bonds during the next year. More sewer lines are badly needed.

CURED OF PELLAGRA; WOMAN IS SO HAPPY

Ratliff, Miss.—Ida Creel, of this place, writes: "I am enjoying fine health, better than I have in years. My weight is 116; when I began taking your treatment it was 98. I sure can praise your treatment; can eat anything I want and it don't seem to hurt me."

There is no longer any doubt that pellagra can be cured. Don't delay until it is too late. It is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn.

The symptoms—hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off, sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucus and choking; indigestion and nausea, either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baughn's big Free book on Pellagra and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., box 2097, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.—

THEATRICAL

Hobart Henley, Frances Nelson, William Welsh, Allen Holubar—you know what to expect when this line-up is suggested. This quartette of bright Universal stars probably have more great, big, entrancing screen triumphs to their credit than any others in the business for the same length of time. Hobart Henley—handsome, debonaire and talented, is fast winning his way to the very forefront of screen idolland, through his masterful interpretation of strong dramatic roles, and in "The Substitute Widow," a great two-reel photodrama heading today's bill at the home of the "Incomparable Movies" is seen in one of his very strongest roles—a drama that also has its lighter side. William Welsh and Allen Holubar are worthy co-stars with handsome Hobart, and well do they fill the exacting roles required of them in this great drama—rated as one of the very best two-reelers ever produced by Universal. It's so good that it has already been predicted that it will be re-issued in a year or two, along with other great dramas worthy of this honor.

Beautiful Mary Fuller, fresh from her conquest in some big Universal Broadway features, presents a charming single reel production today, "The Taming of Mary" in which she is assisted by her two talented co-stars, Milton Sills, a Broadway star of renown, and Paul Panzer, remembered for his great work in "The Perils of Pauline." Many who admired him here will no doubt avail themselves of this opportunity of seeing him again, and with such a charming leading lady.

BEAUTIFUL MARY FULLER,
In "The Taming of Mary" with Paul Panzer, Bijou Today.

"Kids and Corsets" is a rousing Nestor comedy feature that introduces Billie Rhodes, Neal Burns and Jack Dillon. "The Runaway Leopard," one of the greatest of Pathe comedies comes next, and then there's still another big Pathe, "Pressing his Suit," making a total of six rousing reels on today's bill.

The Victoria Opening.

When the curtain rises at the Victoria next Monday night it will usher in the new theatrical season in Wilmington and it will also be the inauguration of high class stock performances in this city at small prices.

The Victoria will have undergone many changes since it closed its season last spring. The house has been leased by the DeLuca Brothers, and will be managed by Marx S. Nathan, who will direct the policy of the coming season. Manager Nathan has had many years' experience in the management of large dramatic offerings and it is safe to say that in securing the "Harme Associate Players" as the permanent company for the Victoria he can assure Victoria patrons the very best dramatic successes.

The opening play will be the four-act society drama, "The Lion and the Mouse," which is from the pen of the noted playwright, Mr. Charles Klein.

"The Lion and the Mouse" has never been offered in Wilmington at less than the high road prices of $1.50 while the Victoria will offer this play at such small prices of 10, 20 and 30 cents. No higher. It is said that the company, the stage settings and scenic production which will be seen at the Victoria will be up to the high standard set by the road shows which have presented this piece.

The Victoria will offer a special scenic production of every play given, a special scenic artist has been engaged to make these gorgeous productions, it will be the artists' duty to follow the lines of the original manuscript in their entirety and to give patrons of the Victoria plays of a high character from every angle.

At the Grand Today.

Say, folks, do you know that the Grand theatre is giving the best shows in town? All that is necessary to convince yourself is to drop in today and see. You know the old adage, "Seeing is Believing."

The program is headed by a mammoth three-reel Essanay entitled: "Eyes That See Not," featuring two well known stars, Mr. Richard Travers and Miss Beverly Bayne. The plot is not at all complicated, but the characters are well bred and their actions indicate absolute sanity and a welcome sense of humor. The production furnishes a proper environment for persons of culture. Beverly Bayne gives another of her charming impersonations of the best type of a thoroughbred American girl. Mr. Travers is at his best in the character of Adam Bell, the private secretary. During the course of the play a novel idea is introduced, of recording the telephone conversation by photographing the printed words right on the scene at the time the players are talking. Right over their heads in the picture appears what they say in large white letters.

You can always figure on a good laugh when the Grand puts on a Mina comedy. "On the Job" is the title selected for today, featuring George Ovey, the funniest little man on the screen.

Tomorrow, "Broadway Favorites," in three parts, "The Legacy of Folly," featuring Lois Meredith and Tom Moore.

Wilson, Sept. 5.—Four thousand, one hundred and nineteen persons will have taken the typhoid vaccine in Wilson county at the end of the campaign which will be concluded with the coming week. The State Board of Health with Dr. A. W. Deans is in charge of the work and gives the treatment three times, one week apart. The cost per person is in the county is 9.71 cents each.

SAYS IT'S WILSON FOR ANOTHER TERM CERTAIN

Prominent Republican Says It's no Use to Oppose Him

Governor Craig Settles Down for Fall and Winter Work—Charters Issued—Justice Brown Improving—Raleigh News.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 6.—"Woodrow Wilson had as well be made President for another term by acclamation," declared a prominent Republican here who held an important Federal appointment for a couple of terms under former Republican administrations. He explained his assertion by saying that Wilson has scored such a complete success in the diplomatic relations of the United States during these perilous times that it will not be worth while for any opposition to his re-election to be organized.

This Republican is also free to admit that the overwhelming strength of President Wilson all over the country will assure to Democracy a firm hold on the reins of government for another term and, indeed, is likely to bring about decided gains out in the states as well as in federal officialdom.

Governor Craig was back at his desk in the executive offices today and remarked that he is settled now for his fall and winter work after the summer vacation period which he spent with Mrs. Craig and Locke Craig, Jr., in the mountains about Asheville. The family is having a reunion this week at the Mansion, all the children being at home for the first time in quite a while. In fact, the Governor remarked, it is the first time that Locke Craig, Jr., who is just about ten months old now, has ever experienced such a reunion. Carlyle Craig comes from Annapolis where he is a first classman in the Naval Academy. George Winston Craig comes from the University of North Carolina where he is a law student. Arthur Craig comes from Annapolis where he is a second classman in the Naval Academy.

Four New Corporations.

Charters were issued today for new corporations as follows:

The Academy of Music Co., of Charlotte, capital $10,000 authorized and $2,000 subscribed by S. A. Lynch, E. T. Henerey and Chas. G. Lee, all of Asheville.

Another charter is for the Wilmington Academy of Music Co., the corporation having the same Asheville incorporators and with the capital specified to be $5,000 authorized and $1,000 subscribed.

The Franklin County Fair Association (Inc.), of Louisburg, capital $25,000 authorized and $550 subscribed by Ben. T. Holden, W. E. White and others.

The T. Hill Farthing Co., Elk Park, Avery county, capital $5,000 subscribed by T. Hill Farthing, J. E. Lineback and others for general mercantile business.

The Dunn Tobacco Warehouse Co., of Dunn, Harnett county, amends its charter so as to change the name to the Dunn Warehouse Co. V. L. Stephens is the president of the corporation.

Examination for Officers.

Adjutant General Young, of the North Carolina National Guard, made an order today for Coast Artillery examination to be held at Greensboro November 8th, to which certain officers specified are directed to report for examination with the expenses paid and any other officers or men can report and undertake the examination at their own expense, which will be refunded by the government if they pass the examination. The officers especially ordered to appear for examination are: First Company, Raleigh, Capt. W. D. Marrow, 2nd Lieut. Lee Layton; Second Company, Wilmington, Capt. E. P. Bailey, First Lieut. J. B. Lynch and Second Lieut. L. B. Orrell; Third Company, Greensboro, Capt. Roy B. Case, Second Lieut. J. B. Thorp; Fourth Company, Salisbury, Capt. W. S. Blackmer, Jr., First Lieut. W. L. Ross and Second Lieut. T. B. Marsh, Jr.; Fifth Company, Charlotte, Capt. W. R. Cox; Sixth Company, Henderson, First Lieut. Van-Lindley and Second Lieut. J. B. Belk.

Justice Brown Improving.

Associate Justice Brown, of the Supreme Court, who was so unwell several days last week as to be unable to sit with the court or take the part he usually does in the grading of the examination papers of the candidates for licenses to practice law, continues to improve and he expects to sit regularly with the court, beginning Tuesday morning, when the appeals from the Second judicial district will be called. There are only 13 appeals constituting the calendar.

Improving Sidewalks.

The Raleigh City Commission will get right behind its projected campaign for improvement in sidewalks and make special effort to have the work done by the time the real winter weather gets the city in its clutches. The plan is to spend as much as $10,000 for extending granolithic pavements into every section of the city where they are not already in vogue. The money so spent by the city is to be charged against the property along which the sidewalks are built and then collected in installments that will extend through a term of years, thus making the improvement and its expense bear as lightly as possible on the property owner, who must in the end bear the whole of the expense.

Labor Day Observed.

Business was practically suspended in Raleigh today (Labor Day) and the banks, the postoffice and other public offices were closed, including the State offices, at least for the greater portion of the day. The Raleigh Country Club held a big club tournament on the club's splendid 18-hole golf course and then the golfers shared in a big feast later in the evening.

PROBABLY FATALLY SHOT

Negro at Mount Olive in Precarious Condition—Assailant.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mount Olive, N. C., Sept. 6.—Jem Warren, a negro well known here, was shot here Sunday morning about two o'clock by Madison Franklin, another negro, who used a shot gun, emptying it's contents into Warren's side. Warren's chances for recovery at this time are considered slim.

Warren's assailant was captured in Wilmington this morning and will be brought here on the northbound train and will be given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace W. F. [illegible]

"A Rubber Chain Tread built on a Powerful Modern Tire"

815% Sales Increase

During the past six months, the sales of "Chain Tread" Tires have increased 815 per cent. This phenomenal record-breaking gain is over previous heavy sales, and just one thing accounts for it—the sheer merit of

"Chain Tread" Tires

These three points of superiority will continue to multiply the sales of "Chain Tread" Tires:

1—The exceptional mileage delivered by the "Chain Tread" Tire.

2—The unquestioned anti-skid protection of the "Chain Tread" Tire.

3—The liberal, courteous service given by the makers of the "Chain Tread" Tire.

TOP O' THE MORNING

It is a good and safe rule to sojourn in every place, as if you meant to spend your life there, never omitting an opportunity of doing a kindness, or speaking a true word, or making a friend. —RUSKIN.

Your close friends will become closer than ever when you try to get into them for a ten spot.

The new zeal displayed in the fighting at the Dardanelles probably is due to the New Zealanders.

The house in glass ever is the object of assault from those who can "come back" and cause trouble.

When nothing else can be said of a good man somebody will be sure to charge him with being a snake in the grass.

While publicity for everything is at its height, Uncle Sam is not giving any to his colonization experiences in the Philippines.

Probably Uncle Sam will recognize Japan's Oriental Monroe Doctrine if Japan will take his interests in the Orient at cost.

What Republican national administration ever did what the Wilson administration has done to protect the cotton grower against loss?

Why follow up an Italian count to see "da monk," when it is said that indulgence in "monkey rum" will enable a habitual imbiber to see a whole menagerie?

Harry Thaw is writing a book containing a sketch of his life. Harry certainly would be crazy to write such an autobiography as would reveal the naked truth.

It's curious, but when they begin to fire at Wilson they have to stand for a flareback that fate seems to have ordered for all those who are not "forward looking men."

A Japanese scientist invented the seismograph and has acquired more fame than all of us who have invented some of the most wonderful fairy tales that a fairy ever had to listen to.

The Mercyville (La.) Banner notes that "a Mercyville veteran who fought in many battles of the Civil war, has been married twice and is still living." What a lucky man if he is he is holding his own and enjoying good health.

Just at the present time none of the European belligerents want any foreign interference in their war—unless some nation wants to take a hand in the fight. The warring nations are as yet satisfied to depend on their resources for triumph and until they exhaust those resources on sea and land, all talk of peace is idle. Practically the naval resources of all the belligerents are intact and no seer can yet divine peace or foretell the result of the final cataclysm that depends upon the grapple of the monster armies and the possibly final clash of the navies.

That is a splendid gift which Capt. Isaac Emerson, of Baltimore, is to bestow upon the University of North Carolina. He will equip the University athletic grounds with a concrete stadium, modern athletic devices, an ideal running track and a model gridiron and diamond. It is said that these athletic requirements will equal those of the larger institutions of learning in the United States, and that they will be modeled after those of the Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore. The architect for the entire outfit will be Mr. Joseph Evans Sperry, one of the most eminent of this country's designers and supervising constructors. Mr. Emerson is a wealthy Baltimorean, but he is a native of North Carolina, fortunate enough now to be the grateful mother of a most generous and liberal benefactor.

ABOUT PEACE TALK

President Wilson knows the proprieties, hence he is not butting in on the European belligerents with peace proposals at a time when he realizes that his efforts may appear gratuitous. America appreciates the pride and national sensibilities of her European friends and does not propose to embarrass them by an effort that could be mistaken as anxiety to come to their rescue. They are taking care of themselves after a tragic fashion and since they are yet bent on fighting for their destinies, as they view the lamentable conflict, it is useless to intrude on their determined warfare for ultimate triumph.

The interest of President Wilson and America in peace between the Europeans is based purely upon the humanitarian aspects of the war which is daily shocking civilization and crumbling the mighty empires engaged in the world's most monstrous conflict.

This country has no idea of wounding the sensibilities of the parties to the conflict and it simply clutches the olive branch that it may be ready to tender it, if at any time the propitious moment arrives. The Cologne Gazette probably uttered the prevailing sentiment in Germany when a few days ago it commented in this fashion upon the reported peace proposals alleged to have emanated from the pope:

"'Americans would do well to leave these things alone. So long as they merely are champions of Germany's enemies, no one of us will recognize them as honest mediators.'"

Probably the Cologne Gazette, an official organ, expresses the present sentiment of Germany, but there is no reason why Americans should be the least resentful. Americans have done their best to remain neutral in the actual meaning of the word, and if controversies have arisen between their government and those of Germany, Great Britain or others, the deplorable incidents are not of America's making. When passion engendered by strife disappears, the thinking people in all the warring countries will appreciate the attitude of President Wilson and recognize in him a mediator with the best interests of all of them at heart—an attitude inspired by the cause of humanity and civilization.

However, considering the present temper in Europe, President Wilson has acted with great wisdom in abstaining from pressing for mediation until it may be received in a generous spirit by each of the warring nations.

THEY WANT THOSE WILMINGTON PICTURES.

The movies are great educators in more ways than one. Besides the melodramas, the skits and the various stories that interest and entertain, people certainly must appreciate the pictured events and the scenic reproductions of famous localities in the United States. When a person can drop into a seat in a movie theatre and practically take a world tour for a jitney, seeing the great sights here and there, just as if he were at the scene or on the spot, it is great.

We have seen a little bit of everything in the movies, but we acknowledge indebtedness to them for enabling us to realize that we have been in every country on the globe and seen practically the greatest and quaintest cities on earth. A constant patron of the movies gets a varied and comprehensive glimpse of the world, its peoples, its life, its most magnificent cities and its scenery, all true to life and adding vastly to one's store of knowledge if not experience. In the photoplay houses we get a regular harvest of information, pleasure, surprises and thrills.

We have seen a lot of America first, and we have seen a lot of North Carolina in such a realistic way that we can say that we have been there—in our mind—and seen sights that we never could have seen otherwise. People are bound to appreciate this feature of the movies, and if we want to see America or North Carolina, about the quickest route to take is by way of the main entrance of an up-to-date picture theatre. Sure! People everywhere know it is so, and the movie people are smart enough to know that they please the thousands when they take them along with them on a sight-seeing trip.

There is no surprise, therefore, that the shrewd proprietors of the photoplay houses are writing to Messrs. Howard & Wells, of the Bijou theatre, to get the wonderful Wilmington-Wrightsville Beach pictures—a fine and artistic piece of film work, and an entertainer equal to any of the local scenic productions secured in various sections of America. If one shuts his eyes to every other interesting feature of these pictures, he will see one of the rarest sights ever caught by the films anywhere in America. It is a true-to-life reproduction of a genuine surf canoe race, with the trim little craft and their daring occupants riding high over the leaping surf as it lifts their bows clear of the water and seems to frolic with the frail canoes that appear to be daring the foaming breakers. In one moment the spectator wonders at the marvelous skill of the canoeists who negotiate the coming rollers, and then comes a roar of laughter at the expense of some luckless navigators who are capsized and given a ducking in crested waves which chase each other to the strand of one of America's most beautiful beaches.

Messrs. Howard & Wells are having applications for these pictures from all over the country, and we predict that they will be as popular at the North as they are in the South. People who love the novel and the realistic in the various sections of our wonderful country will be charmed with this reproduction, not to mention the other interesting features gathered in by the films.

We have seen numerous water scenes and boat races on the screens, but this surf boat stunt at Wrightsville Beach goes up to the head of the list. No wonder the movie houses want them as a genuinely entertaining specialty.

IMPORTANCE OF SIGNPOSTS.

Twenty years ago it was the general rule—if not the law—in North Carolina that at every point where two or more public roads intersected there should be maintained a signpost, with signboards pointing the direction of the respective diverging roads with more or less—often less—plain lettering giving the name of the principal city, town, village, railroad station, country store, postoffice, church or community center to which each road led. In some counties, if not in the whole State, maintenance of these signboards was required by law of the road overseers. They were designed to be of great benefit to the long-distance travelers of that day, and many a traveler has paid tribute in his heart to the guidance of these mute wayside friends.

Even back in the days before the State or many of the counties became interested in the construction and maintenance of modern highways and good roads, the importance of the signboard was recognized. Of course, these signposts were of no benefit to the people in the localities where they stood, for the people at home knew the way to the nearest town or railroad station or church, but they were of immense benefit to the travelers from a distance who were not familiar with the territory through which they were passing. If they were of importance in those days, when there was comparatively little long-distance travel over the public roads, how much more important is it that these friendly guide posts be maintained in these days of the automobile, when 50 and 100 and 500 mile trips by motor car are as common as were five and ten and 25 mile trips in buggies twenty years ago.

The importance of these guideposts perhaps never was appreciated by those living along the highways who never took long-distance trips, for they never needed to refer to the signboards to ascertain the way to their destination, but to the traveler 500 miles, or 100 or even 50 miles from home, especially on his first trip through a given territory, or over a certain route, the guidepost is of great convenience and benefit, many times saving hours of time and many miles of travel.

On the National Highway through North Carolina, as well as on other interstate highways, promoted and fostered by the National Government, the signpost is one of the features never neglected. Not only are guideposts placed at the intersection points, but mileposts all along the way tell the distance one has traveled and the distance yet to be covered in order to reach one's destination. These guideposts on the interstate highways are models of neatness and attractiveness that should be followed by the local road authorities.

Whether the law requires it or not, there should be placed and maintained at every point where public roads cross or intersect plain and attractive signboards giving the name of the place to which each end of each road leads and the distance to it. Not only is it a benefit to the traveler which he is bound to appreciate, but it is a splendid advertisement of the progressiveness of the community in which the signposts are located. There is hardly any other feature of modern road building and maintenance that amounts to so much, both to the local community and the traveling public, that costs so little. Whether a community is ready to spend the money necessary to build modern highways or not, certainly it can afford to place signposts on the roads it has.

A GREAT DAY IN WILMINGTON.

Wilmington ought to be glad that Labor Day came along and gave her people a chance to get an inspiring glimpse of the animated industrial life of their city. Yesterday's celebration was impressive, and the Wilmington Trades Council deserves congratulations for the success made of the occasion. The parade of the trades people through the principal streets of the city showed that Wilmington has a live corps of working men and lots of them at that.

The programme for the day was carried out in the afternoon at Wrightsville Beach, where a great throng heard the splendid addresses of Lieutenant Governor Daughtridge and Congressman Godwin and witnessed the exhilarating sports arranged for the event. The Trades Council's entertainment committee, assisted by a citizens' committee, gave a hearty reception to their distinguished guests and entertained them in a way that will make them glad they visited our city.

Wilmington made a good display of her industrial importance, even surprising to her own people. It ought to whet their appetites for making Wilmington a greater industrial city in order that the larger army of workers may some day have a parade that will proclaim the city's greater progress and prosperity.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is the hope of the State that the Wilmington papers will not grow weary in well doing but will carry to a successful conclusion the effort to have a State Confederate reunion in Wilmington this year.—Charlotte Observer.

"Chasing the dollar now means going after the only real kaleseed that every boob will take without wanting you to knock off something for impaired equivalency," declares the Wilmington Star, which in plain American means that to the financial mind Uncle Sam has the only reliable and dependable cents.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

Mr. Page, says our Washington correspondent, will favor a revenue tariff on sugar, wool and other commodities now on the free list. An eminently sensible position to take. The Treasury cannot very well stand much more experimenting along these lines. It was a very great and grave mistake in the first place to put sugar on the free list. The sugar growers, events have clearly shown, did not need the little protection they were receiving as much as the country needed the money. Many thoughtful Democrats had a full realizing sense of this, and there is little doubt that the radical extension of the free list in the last tariff bill was one of the President's mistakes. It ought to be rectified at the first opportunity. There are few Democrats who do not admit this to be the case in private conversation. Moreover, these Democrats feel it would be the best form of party patriotism to make these changes as quickly as possible, lest the country commission the Republican party to make them. Democrats standing with Mr. Page—and they will be strong both in character and numbers—will have the consciousness of serving both the country and their party. No less sensible are the views of Mr. Page on the subject of preparedness. They coincide with those entertained by Senator Kern and Mr. Kitchin. Adequate coast defenses, submarines and torpedo boats are the things needed by the country, and they are all that is needed. Very few people in this country are interested in a big naval programme, if that means billions for battleships. Let Roosevelt Rage!—Greensboro News (Ind.)

The Observer prints this morning an address delivered by Mr. W. A. Thomas, president of the Kincaid Furniture Company, of Statesville, at the meeting of the Southern Furniture Manufacturers' Association, held in Asheville the past month. This is the opening chapter in the organizing movement of the North Carolina makers of furniture to go after the trade of the rich countries of South America. The stage of talk has passed and active work is now under way. Mr. Thomas recently visited South America in behalf of the furniture men to make a personal investigation of the opportunities for the extension of the trade, and he speaks as one well posted and in possession of the facts. These he summarizes in his address. To The Observer's mind, he has succeeded in pointing out the way in a manner perfectly clear and satisfactory to the furniture trade. With considerable directness he points out the needs of that country in the way of furniture, and it transpires that the majority of the furniture factories of North Carolina turn out the very character of products most in demand there. The first necessity for the capture and maintenance of trade in the South American countries is proper banking facilities, and as Mr. Thomas indicates a start has been made in that direction. Having the needed means of financing the trade, it is only necessary for the factories to produce the kind of furniture that best meets the requirements of the people of the newly acquired trade territory. This demand fortunately coincides with the lines on which most of the factories run—a cheap grade of pine goods and bent wood chairs. These goods, presented properly by men who will see that the customer gets just what is bargained for, will at the outset establish confidence and result in the opening of a trade that will offer tremendous opportunities for expansion and the building up of a market that should keep the North Carolina factories busy the year round. Mr. Thomas thinks the start at working up this South American trade should be made with Argentina, Uruguay, Chile and Peru. The establishing of a line of steamers would be a necessity in the consummation of the plans for the development of new trade territory, but assured of the tonnage, the ships would be forthcoming.—Charlotte Observer.

HOW TO HEAL SKIN-DISEASES

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar itching, burning skin troubles.

At any reliable druggist's get a jar of resinol ointment and a cake of resinol soap. These will not cost a bit more than seventy-five cents. With the resinol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resinol ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

A HINT FOR SHAVERS

If you want a refreshing shave, with a thick, creamy lather, try a resinol shaving stick. It contains the soothing, healing resinol medication which makes it especially welcome to men with tender faces.

BESSIE TIFT OPENS SEPT. 15

Georgia Baptist College Has Brightest Prospect for Years.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Forsythe, Ga., Sept. 6.—The sixty-eighth session of Bessie Tift College, of which Dr. J. H. Foster is president, begins September 15 under the most favorable auspices. The prospects are the brightest for several years. Students have registered from Georgia, Alabama, Florida, South Carolina, Missouri, Illinois and Texas.

On September 15, the student body will arrive.

The 16th is a classification day and at 8 p. m. there will be a reception to the new students given under the auspices of the Y. W. A.

On the 17th, those coming from unaccredited high schools will be classified. At 8 p. m. the musical faculty will give a recital, after which will be a faculty reception to all the friends of the college.

At 9:30 Saturday morning, public exercises will be held. After brief remarks by Dr. Foster, the new president, Prof. James P. Whyte, professor of English literature, will deliver an address on "The Well Rounded Education." At the close of this address, class work will begin.

SOLICITOR SHAW THREATENED

Wrathy Person at Clinton Meant to Kill Him, But Gets on Roads.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Sept. 6.—The news has just leaked out here of an attempt to attack Solicitor Henry E. Shaw, of this judicial district, by a man who ran amuck in a hotel at Clinton. The district attorney heard from his room on the second floor the threats of the wrathy party, whose "crow to pick" was a fancied one, to kill him. The intended victim armed himself with a table leg, and investigated. Policemen and others got the man out of the house after, it is said, taking an axe from him. Solicitor Shaw himself laughingly relates a scene that followed his would-be assailant's arraignment in a magistrate's court. The prisoner roundly abused the chief of police. The magistrate stated that he wanted it distinctly understood that cursing in the court would not be tolerated. He was asked "who the — he was to be telling a man old enough for his father what he should do and shouldn't do." "Thirty days," said his honor. "Then I won't go," said the indignant defendant. He was carried out, and it is presumed is serving sentence.

LABOR'S HOLIDAY WAS GENERALLY OBSERVED

Addresses Made by Daughtridge and Godwin

Civic Parade in Wilmington Was Interesting Feature—Athletic Events Given—Ideal Weather for Day—Day of Rest.

With the additional feature of a civic parade through the principal streets of Wilmington yesterday, the celebration of Labor Day was in every way a splendid success. Lieut. Governor E. L. Daughtridge and Congressman H. L. Godwin reviewed the parade from the balcony of the Orton Hotel and in the afternoon made able addresses to a representative audience at Lumina, Wrightsville Beach.

All the city, county and Federal offices were closed for the day and many of the business houses were also closed the entire day, while others observed a half holiday. Several hundred people went to Carolina Beach to spend the day while several thousand people visited Wrightsville Beach during the day. All the afternoon, cars going to the beach were crowded with men, women and children.

In addition to the speaking, which took place at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, there were athletic events that attracted much interest. Music by the Don Richardson orchestra, which closed its engagement at Lumina last night, throughout the day and evening was one of the most enjoyable features and there were many who took part in the dancing. The surf also proved to be most attractive to many.

The observance of the day was, as is usually the case in Wilmington, quiet and devoid of excitement.

Parade in Wilmington.

Headed by the Hanover Concert Band, the civic parade formed at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning on Third street and marched to Red Cross, thence on Red Cross to Front, to Market, thence on Market to Fifth, thence on Fifth to Chestnut, thence to Third. The parade was witnessed by several thousand people and was a very creditable one.

The Wilmington Light Infantry in full uniform, under the command of Capt. E. P. Bailey, followed the band and the Wilmington police force under the direction of Chief of Police Williams came next. Then came the printers in gaily decorated automobiles followed by the pressmen and bookbinders in other machines.

The members of the carpenters' union came next in automobiles followed by the Wilmington branch of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes in a big touring car. The Wilmington Marine Beneficiaries' Association came next and carried the slogan, "We Want a Navy—a Merchant Marine," The Wilmington Fire Department with all equipment came in the rear of the procession. Messrs. C. H. Huband, George Vernon and Ray Pollock were marshals for the parade.

Exercises at Beach.

After the parade was over, Congressman Godwin and Lieut. Governor Daughtridge, who were guests of the Wilmington Trades Council, under whose auspices the exercises were given, together with members of the reception committee, were taken for a ride over the city. The guests, members of the reception committee and other friends of the local unions were taken on a special suburban car at 11 o'clock to Lumina to witness the first part of the athletic events.

After dinner at the Carolina cottage, Lieut. Governor Daughtridge and Congressman Godwin were escorted to Lumina for the exercises of the afternoon.

The addresses were given on Lumina pavilion and members of the reception committee, the Wilmington City Council, Mayor Moore and the speakers occupied chairs on the floor. The decorations of American and Confederate flags gave a truly patriotic air to the occasion.

Mayor Welcomes Visitors.

After the invocation by Rev. W. R. Noe, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Mr. C. T. Berfoot, who was master of ceremonies for the occasion, introduced Mayor Moore, who made the address of welcome.

Mr. Berfoot explained that the Wilmington Trades Council, under whose auspices the celebration took place, was composed of three representatives from each labor union in the city of Wilmington, there being at the present time nine unions with a total membership of more than 700. He told of the custom inaugurated by the Trades Council of having a celebration of Labor Day and expressed the gratitude of this organization in having the distinguished visitors present on this occasion.

Mayor Moore made an eloquent address in welcoming the visitors and paid a fine tribute to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. He spoke in the highest praise of the labor unions and declared that they are making life worth while and that their teachings of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man are uplifting and elevating. He was glad, indeed, he said, to welcome Lieut. Governor Daughtridge and Congressman Godwin in the name of a splendid people, who always fight for what is right, and especially in the name of such a people as have in their midst a man like Capt. Walter G. MacRae, who, a few years ago when ordered to reduce the wages of men then under his supervision refused to do so and requested that if anybody's wages had to be reduced that his own be reduced. He spoke of the honorable place of the laboring man and declared that their achievements are in every way as worthy as those of the soldiers who are awarded iron and Victoria crosses.

Mr. Daughtridge Speaks.

Lieutenant Governor Daughtridge expressed his pleasure in being in Wilmington and especially to be with the people who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow. He was also glad to be with the wealth producers as well as the bread earners, he said.

He defined the standard of greatness as being that of service and declared that all other standards sink into insignificance. With the many advantages that Wilmington and Wrightsville have, he predicted that this would become one of the most important points on the Atlantic Coast. He referred to the possibilities that the Inland Waterway promises and spoke in high praise of the splendid system of good roads in New Hanover county.

The most significant sign of our times, he declared, is not that of great wealth or of monopolies, both of which present problems of grave moment, but more powerful than these is the awakening of the social consciousness; the recognition of the value of humanity. He pointed out that a readjustment is going on. The newspapers are full of it, he said, and he ventured to assert that one can hardly pick up a newspaper without finding an account of some new social movement.

Along with this awakening we have a new attitude and new outlook upon life. Behind this new spirit and this new attitude there is an ethical impulse. Great corporations are learning that they must serve humanity. There is a new spirit in the air and men are learning that they must co-operate for the common good. While there are always leaders and captains of industry, the speaker stated, there is evidence of a broader vision. He expressed the hope that the time is now past when a few men by the control of the money situation can restrain initiative. The rich, however, cannot be restrained without the backing of intelligent public opinion and this must embody the ideal of service, he declared.

Congressman Godwin Heard.

Congressman Godwin thanked Mayor Moore for his cordial and sincere words of welcome and declared that he is always glad to come to Wilmington and that he had always found that his greatest difficulty when visiting in this city is to get away. He recalled the history of the setting apart of one legal holiday in each year in honor of the laboring men which was suggested some 35 or 40 years ago by Samuel Gompers. It was in 1892 that Congress voted to make the first Monday in September Labor Day.

He thought that it is entirely fitting that the people of this great nation should do this. He recalled the fact that from the beginning this government of the United States has been dedicated to the proposition that every man should be free. The throwing aside of bondage could never have been possible, he declared, without the aid of the great army of laboring men of the country.

He spoke of his personal acquaintance with Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and with Frank Morrison, secretary of the same organization, and paid a tribute to their honesty and uprightness. The labor leaders located at the National Capital, he declared, are the most honorable and most intelligent men to be found anywhere.

Congressman Godwin said that so far as his observation had gone he had found that the men in the labor unions throughout the country can be trusted. The substantial people of the country are to be found in these organizations. In order to build up the country we must have intelligent men who respect law and order and the labor unions are a great asset in this respect, he said.

He pointed out that organization is necessary in order to achieve anything worth while. By organizing laboring men can go before the legislatures and make their demands in an effective manner. Co-operation is made possible by organization.

"I am in sympathy with your organization," Congressman Godwin said in conclusion, "and my heart is with you and if there is anything I can do let me know."

Both Lieutenant Governor Daughtridge and Congressman Godwin were given ovations at the conclusion of their addresses. The audience was not large but listened with the closest attention to the speakers.

MANY TEACHERS ENROLLED

Institute at Hemenway School Making Progress—Speaking Tomorrow and Thursday.

That 92 teachers for the schools in New Hanover county have been enrolled in the institute which is being conducted at the Hemenway school building by Prof. E. C. Griffin, of Marion, was the report made yesterday by Prof. Washington Catlett, superintendent of public instruction in New Hanover county. There are six colored teachers enrolled at the Williston school.

Much interest and enthusiasm is being put into the work and excellent progress is being made. The work for the eradication of illiteracy in North Carolina is getting some attention and special exercises will be held, beginning at noon tomorrow, for the purpose outlining the plans to work by. Chairman J .O. Carr, of the County Board of Education and others of prominence will make speeches and it is hoped that all the teachers can be induced to pledge themselves to lend their support to the work. All who are interested in the educational standing of the State and county are requested to be present at this meeting.

Another special feature of the institute will be a talk Thursday morning by Mr. R. E. Parker, secretary of the Audubon Society of North Carolina, who makes a specialty of nature study in the public schools. Recorder B. G. Emple, who is a director of this society, has been invited to be present and make a talk to the directors. This meeting is expected to receive much interst from the teachers.

BARACA CLASS OFFICERS.

Election Held Last Night by First Baptist Church Organization.

At the regular business meeting of the Baraca class of the First Baptist church last night the following officers for the ensuing year were elected:

President, Mr. J. D. Perry (re-elected); first vice president, Mr. W. A. Fonvielle; second vice-president, Mr. R. C. McCarl; secretary, Mr. J. H. Chapman, Jr.; treasurer, Mr. H. C. Marshall; teacher, Mrs. C. O. Byerly; first assistant teacher, Mr. L. S. Sharpless; second assistant teacher, Mr. F. T. Allen; corresponding secretary, Mr. R. C. McCarl.

The intelligence and efficiency which Mr. Perry has shown in the leadership of the class gives reason for the belief of the members that the coming year will be even a greater success than the past year. Mr. W. A. Fonvielle, the new first vice-president, who has just returned to the city, will be able to give the class new ideas and suggestions, which are expected to prove quite helpful. The class feels that the other officers will also render splendid service in their respective positions.

FIRST FALL DANCE.

Whitlock-West Orchestra to Play Tomorrow Evening at Overlake.

Inasmuch as the summer season has closed at the beaches, the Whitlock-West Orchestra has been employed to come back to the city and begin the fall dances at Overlake Pavilion at Greenfield Park. The first dance will be given tomorrow evening and a special dance music programme has already been arranged. These dances will be kept up each succeeding Wednesday as long as the patronage justifies it, and increased to more than one dance a week, if the management feels justified in doing so.

SEASON'S BOOKINGS AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Mr. G. W. Bailey, of Asheville, Will be Manager

Arrived in Wilmington Yesterday to Take Charge of Local Theatre—Tentative List of Attractions is Announced.

Mr. George W. Bailey, of Asheville, arrived in Wilmington yesterday and during the season will be manager of the Academy of Music for Mr. S. A. Lynch, lessee of the former Schloss Theatre circuit. He was for five years manager of the Asheville house of the late Mr. Schloss and states that he has a nice line of attractions booked for the Wilmington house for the coming season, the first of which will be "Damaged Goods," on Tuesday night, September 14.

Announcement was made yesterday by Mr. Bailey of the list of bookings for the coming season which shows that some strong attractions have been billed for the approaching fall and winter months. Included in the list are a number of productions which are said to be making their first Southern tour, while several return engagements are also booked.

"Damaged Goods," Eugene Brieux's startling sociological play which Richard Bennett's New York Company of co-workers will present in Wilmington as the opening attractions on September 14, has the distinction of being the only theatrical entertainment ever presented in the National Capital on the Sabbath day. This event took place last April when, under the auspices of the Society for Social Hygiene, Richard Bennett brought his company to Washington from New York city in order that members of Congress and other officials in National life, might see the play and pass upon its fitness for presentation before the general public. More than four thousand applicants for seats were received for this single performance whereas the capacity of the theatre was limited to seven hundred. In the audience were the most distinguished senators and representatives of Congress and their wives; many diplomatic of renown; more than thirty of the leading clergymen of the city and all of the prominent officials of the city government. President Wilson's cabinet was represented by Postmaster General Burleson and Secretary of Labor Wilson, and his daughter. The play created such a profound impression that the Washington Board of Trade passed a form of resolution instructing its secretary to see what arrangements could be made for a second presentation of the remarkable play in the city.

The next attraction after "Damaged Goods" will be "Mutt and Jeff in College" on September 16 which will be followed on September 18 by "Peg o' My Heart." Both of these attractions have been shown in Wilmington in previous seasons although, as usual, the Mutt and Jeff attraction has some variations to add to its interest. "The Yellow Ticket" will be shown on September 22 and on September 25, "The Winning of Barbara Worth" will be presented.

The closing attraction for this month will be Al G Field's minstrels which are booked for September 27. These minstrels have been coming to Wilmington for many years and always score a big success.

Contracts have been signed for the presentation and appearance here also of the following attractions: "When Dreams Come True," "Potash and Perlmutter," "Under Cover," "The Birth of a Nation," "A Fool There Was," "Bringing Up Father," "Twin Beds," "Mrs. Patrick Campbell," "A Pair of Sixes," "It Pays to Advertise," "Robin Hood," "Daddy Long Legs," "Adelaide Thurston, "High Jinks," "A Modern Cinderella," "Sari," "The Law of the Land," Elsie Ferguson, Al. H. Wilson in "As Years Roll On," Neil O'Brien's Minstrels, John Drew, "September Morn," the Boston English Grand Opera Co., "The New Henrietta," "On Trial," "The Butterfly," Blanch Ring, "The Only Girl," "The Bubble," "Seven Keys to Baldpate," "Along Came Ruth, "Under Fire," "The Show Shop."

These attractions will be shown later in the season and the dates for their appearance wil lbe announced later.

Mr. Bailey has already entered upon his duties and will be joined here by his family next Sunday. The Asheville Citizen has the following with reference to Mr. Bailey's departure from that city: 'Mr. Bailey was appointed manager of the Auditorium following the departure of J. F. Arnold, and during the time that he has been here he met with much success. Dramatic, musical comedy and moving picture records of the circuit were broken in here during the time Mr. Bailey was in charge of the Auditorium, and he has conducted the affairs of the theatre in a manner satisfactory to both the patrons of the house and the lessee of the theatre."

WELL KNOWN IN CITY

Death of Mr. Lemuel E. Demelman, of Boston, Mass.—Died in Maine.

The death of Mr. Lemuel E. Demelman, of Boston, Mass., at Mount Kineo, Maine, where he was spending the summer, which occurred last Saturday, will be learned with regret by many people in Wilmington. He was 57 years old and was a brother of the late Mrs. Sol Bear and the late Mrs. Marcus Bear, of this city. His wife was formerly Miss Rebecca Weil, daughter, of the late Major A. Weil, of Wilmington. She survives her husband together with one son, Mr. Walter W. Demelman.

The deceased had numerous nephews and nieces in Wilmington and is remembered well by many friends here. The funeral and interment took place in Boston yesterday.

SHOE DEALERS PROSPER

St. Louis Company Reports Vast Increase in American Business.

The Brown Shoe Company, of St. Louis, Mo., reports that their business in the Southern and Western part of America has been on the steady increase, despite the war. Although there was a small decrease for last fall, business for the past August broke all records. The extra gain makes up for all the business lost last fall when every business man was on the lookout for the change in trade conditions, the European trouble would make.

WINNERS IN ATHLETIC MEET

Much Interest Taken in Contests by Labor Union Men at Beach Yesterday.

The officers of the athletic meet at Wrightsville Beach yesterday when the Trades Council men and their guests were given the keys of the city and all its suburbs they cared to have, were highly pleased with the interest taken in the events, both by the public and the earnest contestants.

The officers were Mr. J. P. Seitters, physical director at the Y. M. C. A., marshall; Messrs. George F. Newton George Vernon, J. W. Thorpe and John J. Bell, judges; J. B. Huntington, referee; Benjamin Thees, starter; and R. S. MacMillan, scorer.

Those who had won at previous meets this season were handcapped one per cent. in similar events, with the exception of the canoe race. The following is the handicapped list:

Morgan Fenley, 100-yard dash, under 110 pounds; Robert Williams, 100-yard dash 110 to 130 pounds; G. Mercer, 100-yard dash, 135 pounds and over; J. H. McVey, shot put; Mercer and Silverman, wheelbarrow race; MacMillan, swimming race, under 110 pounds; R. C. Davis, swimming race, 100 pounds and over;

The winners in the 100-yard dash for those weighing under 110 pounds were: Lester Guttenburg, first; Kenneth Mann, second, and Charles Bell, third.

Winning in the 100-yard dash for those weighing from 110 to 135 were: Robert Williams, first; Charles Jones, second, and Octave Barnes, second.

In the 100-yard dash for men weighing 135 and over, the winners were: F. H. Ellison, first; M. Grant, second, C. M. Gaskill, third.

The shot put contest was open to all and A. W. Folger won the first prize by putting it 34.4 feet; P. Utley won second place, by putting it 32.9 feet; Thompson made a put of 30.8 feet and won third prize. Grant and Kerman, both made good throws and came close up with the winners.

The girls' souvenir race, for girls under 12 years of age, was very interesting. The winners were little Misses Alice McVey, Annie May Meier and Eugenia Mason, winning first, second and third prizes respectively. The girls' souvenir race for those more than 12 years of age, brought out Misses Mary Herbest, Wallace Brady and Alene Johnson, as winners of the first second and third, respectively.

The tug of war, by carpenters, made a feature of the days contests. The knights of the handsaw and hammer went in for all the game was worth. The team winning was composed of Messrs. Burfoot, Merry, Gaskill, Bunn and Risley.

The rope climb contest was won by Sidney MacMillan, first, O. L. Hicks second, and J. H. Davis, third.

The wheelbarrow race, for those weighing under 110 pounds, was won by Messrs. Howard Green and Smoot, first; Mahley and Penton, second Graham and Spilman, third. The wheelbarrow for those weighing 135 and over, was won by Messrs. Toon and Fenley, first, and Hall and Green, second.

The pie contest was among the humorous feats and the prizes were won by Green, Tate and Barnes.

The canoe races brought out quite a bit of interest, the first prize being won by Lord and Davis, the second by George Clark and Will Parsley and the third by Cantwell and Toon.

There was only one swimming race, L. MacMillan winning first and E. C. Johnson winning second.

NAVAHOE AT NEW YORK.

Had Trouble With Engines and Was Towed Back to Port.

The Clyde offices here yesterday reported that the damages to the steamer Navahoe were only slight, and that the steamer carried no passengers.

An Associated Press dispatch in yesterday's Star told of the steamer having to be towed back to New York. Another dispatch came in last night, stating that the vessel had been towed into port. The dispatch follows:

New York, Sept. 6. — The Clyde Line steamship Navahoe, New York for Wilmington, N. C., with passengers and cargo, reported by wireless last night as disabled 100 miles south of Sandy Hook, reached here today in tow of her sister ship, Comanche. Officers of the Clyde Line said the Navahoe had trouble with her engines.

BACK FROM LONG TRIP

Mr. C. W. Leighton Reports an Enjoyable and Successful Outing.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Leighton, accompanied by Miss Blanche Elliott, have returned from a month's visit in the North and report a most successful trip, which was made in Mr. Leighton's R. C. H. automobile. During the entire trip, he says he had only one slight puncture and one broken spring, both of which were repaired in Richmond, Va.

Mr. Leighton visited relatives and spent several weeks in New York state. He says the roads up there are excellent, but that tolls bridges and gates are still in use and that officers, ever on their jobs, made themselves a nuisance investingating his number, owing to the fact that the states up there require a number on both the front and rear and that they would see him coming and think he was trying to get by without license.

Formerly of Wilmington.

Yesterday's Batimore Sun: "Washington relatives of Mrs. Lou Rhodes, who more than 10 years ago lived on North Front street, next to St. Vincent's Catholic church, are trying to find her. Marshall of Police Carter was yesterday given a description of Mrs. Rhodes, who came here 17 years ago from Wilmington, N. C. It was learned that after leaving Front street Mrs. Rhodes moved to Lexington street."

After Vacation Peel Your Discolored Skin

Women returning from the seaside with browned, reddened or freckled complexions will be wise in immediately taking up the mercolized wax treatment. Weatherbeaten skin had best come off, for no amount of "beautifying" will ever make such skin pretty to look at. The surest, safest, easiest way to shed the despoiled cuticle is with the treatment suggested. Put the wax on before retiring, as you would cold cream, and rinse it off next morning with warm water. Minute particles of scarf skin will peel off day by day, gradually showing the healthy, youthful skin beneath. One ounce of Mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, is enough to make any discolored or spotted complexion clear, white and satiny soft. Its action is so gentle no injury is caused and the face shows no trace of its use.

Burning heat, irritating winds and dirt are such wrinkle-makers that the daily use of the following astringent tonic lotion as this season is highly advisable: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, ½ pt. Used as a face bath this is a splendid wrinkle remover and preventive.

INSTANTLY KILLED BY GUN

Young Arthur W. Branch, of Wilmington, Accidentally Shot at Masonboro Sound Yesterday.

Arthur W. Branch, Jr., the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Branch, was instantly killed yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at Masonboro Sound, near the mouth of Whiskey Creek, eight miles southeast of Wilmington, by the accidental discharge of a breech-loading shotgun which he was attempting to take out of a row boat in which he and young Richard Benson had just been out on the Sound to hunt for marsh hens. The trigger of the gun was caught on the seat of the boat and the entire load in the gun took effect in young Branch's face, most of the shot passing entirely through his head.

Young Branch and his companion, Richard Benson, went down to Masonboro Sound Saturday night to spend Sunday and yesterday with Mr. Jordan R. Branch, a cousin of Mr. Arthur Branch, and early yesterday morning went out in a row boat to hunt for marsh hens. Not having much success, they decided to return to the shore and had just reached a seine haul about 200 yards from the main land where Messrs. Henry Kirkham, Frank Meier, Thad Grotgen and Pat O'Neill were seining for mullets.

A school of mullets were seen some distance away and several in the party were going out in the boat in which young Branch and his companion had just come to take one end of the net out. Mr. Grotgen started to take the gun out when young Branch stepped forward to get it, the gun being owned by him. He took hold of the barrel and was pulling it towards him when the trigger was caught on the seat in the boat and the load in one of the barrels discharged. The force of the explosion threw several in the party to their knees. Young Branch fell backward, the shot killing him instantly.

One of the party went to the home of Mr. J. B. Fales, about half a mile away, and phoned to Mr. Jordan R. Branch, who is employed at Springer's Hardware store, informing him of the sad tragedy. Mr. Jordan and Mr. J. H. Mitchell, of Yopp's undertaking establishment, went down immediately and brought the remains to Yopp's undertaking parlors. Coroner A. S. Holden was notified and, after viewing the remains and hearing the particulars of the shooting, decided that an inquest was not necessary.

After being prepared for burial the body was taken to the home of the bereaved parents, No. 1408 South Second street. Hundreds of friends called last night to extend condolence to the bereaved family. Young Branch was the oldest of five children, the others being James, Harry, Lula, Goldie and Gracie.

The funeral will be conducted from the residence this afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

Young Branch was a bright young fellow and had a host of friends who were greatly shocked to learn of his tragic death.

Until two weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Branch had been occupying their summer home near the scene of the shooting. Mr. Jordan W. Branch was still living at the Sound and had expected to return to the city today. Young Branch was expecting to stay until today and help them move.

Those in the fishing party yesterday have been staying in tents on Mr. Henry Kirkham's place at the Sound during the summer and yesterday being a holiday were engaged in having some sport seining for mullets. Mr. Jordan Branch had to come to the city and left the place about 7:15. He said that young Branch and his companion had gone out to hunt for marsh hens about 6 o'clock yesterday morning. The gun with which he was killed is said to have been responsible for the accidental death of a man some eight or nine years ago.

Mr. Arthur W. Branch is assistant superintendent of sewerage for the city and is well known in Wilmington. He and his family will have the tender sympathy of many friends in their sad bereavement.

Arrest Many for Vagrancy.

Policeman Frank George last night arrested Rosa Colder and Carry Haynes, both colored women, for vagrancy, while Policeman J. O. Bullard arrested Eliza McCartney, Rosa Thomas and Josh Holmes, all colored, on the same charge. They will all get a hearing in the Recorder's Court this morning. Peter Galvey, colored, was arrested last night at the corner of Eighth and Nixon streets, on the charge of stealing $7 from a negro named Sloan, at a dance. He will also be brought before the Recorder.

HOUSEBOAT SINKS IN RIVER.

Five Persons Were Sleeping on Boat When it Went Down Sunday.

It was learned yesterday that five persons sleeping on a government houseboat, which was anchored near the Wilmington Marine Railway, had rather an exciting experience Sunday morning about 5 o'clock, when the boat sunk in the Cape Fear river. The boat was leaking, but it was not thought that there was danger of its going down. The occupants were routed out of their berths by the water, and barely had time to get out before it went down.

The boat had just been stocked up with provisions, and the loss on this score will amount to about $300. The boat will be brought to the surface and floated again.

MR. J. F. ZELLERS DEAD

Respected Wilmington Citizen Passed Away at Home Here Last Night.

Friends will regret to learn of the death of Mr. J. F. Zellers which occurred last evening at 6:45 o'clock at his home, No. 714 Queen street, following a stroke of paralysis several days ago. He was 67 years old. He was a member of the Advent Christian church and a respected citizen. The funeral will be held at the residence this afternoon at 5 o'clock and the interment will be in Bellevue cemetery.

Surviving the deceased are four sons and two daughters as follows: Messrs. J. F. Zellers, Jr., F. F. Zellers, Willie Zellers, Henry Zellers, Mrs. W. A. Johnson and Mrs. Lula Fales, all of whom will have the tender sympathy of a host of friends.

FUNERAL OF MR. KING

Impressive Service at Fifth Street Methodist Church Yesterday.

The funeral of Mr. Walker T. King, whose death occurred Sunday evening at the James Walker Memorial hospital, after an attack of pneumonia, was conducted from Fifth Street Methodist church by the pastor, Rev. A. J. Parker, yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, and the remains were laid to rest in Bellevue cemetery.

The pallbearers were Mssrs. W. L. Benson, J. W. Fleet, J. D. Cox, Edward Register, W. J. Bradshaw and H. E. Walton.

ATTENDING HEALTH MEETING

Dr. Charles T. Nesbitt, County Health Officer, in Rochester, N. Y.

Dr. Charles T. Nesbitt, county health officer, left Saturday night for Rochester, N. Y., to attend the annual meeting of the American Health Association which is in session in that city this week. Dr. Nesbitt will be out of the city for a week and will visit in New York city before returning home. Dr. John Thames, assistant county officer, is in charge of the Health Department while Dr. Nesbitt is out of the city.

MACCABEES HAVE EXCURSION

Large Crowd Went to Carolina Beach Yesterday—Enjoyable Occasion.

The celebration at Carolina Beach yesterday under the auspices of the Maccabees was a great success and thoroughly enjoyed by the large crowd which went down on the steamer Wilmington. The boat made three trips during the day. The first boat left at 9:30, the second at 2:30, and the last at 7:30 o'clock. There was music by the West-Whitlock orchestra and dancing throughout the day and other enjoyable features.

FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON.

Remains of Mr. Louis F. Lane Laid to Rest at Bellevue.

The funeral of Mr. Louis F. Lane, whose death occurred Sunday morning at Harper's Sanitarium, as a result of blood poisoning, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The services will be from the residence of Mr. Lane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Lane, No. 412 Castle street, and will be conducted by Rev. W. R. Noe, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd. Interment will be made at Bellevue cemetery.

How To Make Straight Hair Curly

(Society Talk.)

To make straight hair nice and curly in one night by merely applying plain liquid silmerine—that's one of the best beauty secrets that has leaked out in a long time. Some peculiar property of this harmless fluid causes the hair to dry in just the prettiest, most natural-looking curls and creases imaginable. It is valuable as a dressing, also, as it puts new life and lustre into dead-looking hair.

This means that the singeing, drying curling iron can now be dispensed with forever! A few ounces of the liquid silmerine, which may be found in any drug store, will keep the hair in wave for weeks. It is neither sticky nor greasy, and is really quite an agreeable thing to use. It can be applied with a clean tooth brush before retiring—and the transformation will afford a most pleasant surprise in the morning.

MORE ROBBERIES REPORTED

Mr. J. E. Northam's Home and Thomas Smith's Office Broken Into.

Report was made to the police yesterday that the office of Thomas Smith, at the corner of Water and Grace streets, was broken into yesterday afternoon. The intruder went through a back window. A tin box in which the money was kept was opened, but the owner was not positive about the amount that had been taken. There have been no arrests made.

A report has also been made to the police that a thief entered the home of Mr. J. E. Northam's No. 112 South Seventh street, breaking into the house through the kitchen and taking about $40 from the pockets of Mr. Wilkinson, a traveling man who rooms there. No clue has been found although Policeman G. W. Bullard is making a close investigation.

CAPE FEAR ACADEMY TO OPEN

Prof. Washington Catlett Takes Up Work for 43rd Session.

Prof. Washington Catlett, county superintendent of public instruction, announced yesterday that the 43rd session of the Cape Fear Academy would be opened on September 20. Professor Catlett will be in charge of the work and has a number of students who will be enrolled at the beginning. An advertisement of the opening is given elsewhere in this issue of The Star.

Arrested Yesterday.

County Officer H. Mack Godwin made two arrests yesterday. John Taylor, colored, charged with beating his wife, and Bill Riley, also colored, charged with an assault on Rosa Thomas. They will both be given a hearing today before Justice Harriss.

SEASON AT BEACH CLOSES

Tidewater Power Company Carried Over Three Thousand People Down Yesterday—Last Concert.

Labor Day marked the close of the summer season at Wrightsville Beach and the Tidewater Power Company carried over 3,000 passengers down for the celebration yesterday and last night. The Don Richardson orchestra closed its engagement at Lumina last night and will leave this morning for a tour of the Carolinas and Georgia before going to New York to arrange for a three weeks' tour of the country, preparatory to beginning the regular winter engagements in the metropolis.

There was a large crowd present at the closing dance at Lumina last night and the evening was greatly enjoyed by all. Plenty of cars were put on yesterday to handle the crowds and everything went through without a hitch.

While all the hotels at the beach are closed for the season, there are still many of the cottages open and quite a number of visitors at the beach. Residents in the city who have homes at the beach with few exceptions have not yet moved to the city. The month of September at the beach is one of the most ideal of the year and there will be a great many who will wait until October to move to the city.

GONE TO UNIVERSAL CITY

Mr. E. N. Albea, Former Clerk at the Oceanic, to Be Movie Actor.

The many friends of Mr. E. N. Albea, who was a clerk at the Oceanic Hotel at Wrightsville Beach during the summer, will be glad to hear that he has been given a position by the Universal Film Company as a movie actor. He leaves today for Universal City, Cal., where he will enter upon his new duties at once. Mr. Albea was seen in fancy swimming stunts while the camera man was here a few weeks ago and the company thinks it can offer him an opportunity to repeat a few of these stunts before the camera, and eventually train him for other kinds of acting. Mr. Albea is enthusiastic over his new work and says he is going in to make it a profession and that his friends here may some time see him playing important roles.

DELEGATES GOING HOME

Lutherans Highly Pleased With Reception Received Here.

The delegates to the 30th annual convention of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of North Carolina left yesterday morning on the 8:45 train for Greensboro, where they changed for their respective homes. They were all enthusiastic in their praise of the reception accorded them by the women of Wilmington and expressed themselves as being very sorry to leave.

Rec. Dr. R. C. Holland, with Mrs. Holland, and Rev. Dr. J. C. Seegers left yesterday afternoon at 3:45 for their homes in Columbia, S. C. Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Cronk are spending a few days at the New Hanover Seaside club, enjoying the surf and ocean breezes, before returning to their homes in Columbia.

KINSTON SYRIAN FIGHTING IN TRENCHES OF SYRIA OR TURKEY

Went to Native Land Some Months Ago to Visit Aged Parents.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Sept. 5. — Farris Shaheen, a member of the National Guard here, is in the trenches somewhere in Syria or Turkey, fighting under the star and crescent, according to information that has come to friends in Kinston. Shaheen, generally known as "Mike Farris," on South Queen street, where he conducted a fruit store, went to Syria some months ago to stay a while with his aged parents, who live on the mountains just outside of Beirout. "I'll tend the goats for them a little time, and help to get in the crops, and then I'll be back," Farris told his intimates before he left. He failed to turn up at the time appointed.

Shaheen is a splendid specimen of a soldier. He is a corporal and clarinet player in the Second Infantry band, in which he had served four years before going to Syria. He had announced his intention of becoming an American citizen at enlistment. Whether he has any rights to aid from the State Department is unknown to his friends here. He may be dropped from the roster of the militia and the affair let go at that.

LARGEST ENROLLMENT EVER.

Teachey High School Opens With 140 Students First Day.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Teachey, N. C., Sept. 6.—The Teachey high and graded school opened today with 140 students enrolled, which is by far the largest number ever enrolled on the first day. The school was established five years ago by that excellent school organizer, Prof. P. E. Shaw, and has been conducted under his supervision ever since, having made much progress proving a great blessing to the individual students and the community.

The faculty consists of the following: Prof. P. E. Shaw, principal; Miss Louise Moore, assistant high school teacher; Miss Theline Mallard, assistant high school teacher; Miss Gladys Rawlins, intermediate teacher; Miss Annie Meta Buchanan, primary teacher; Miss Annie Faye Turner, primary teacher.

DEATH FROM TYPHOID FEVER.

Young Man From Wayne County Dies at Rocky Mount.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mt. Olive, N. C., Sept. 6.—The remains of Joseph Owdom, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Owdom, whose death occurred Saturday night at the Rocky Mount Sanitarium, following a brief illness of typhoid fever, were brought here Sunday afternoon and taken to Dobbersville, this county, where they were interred this afternoon.

SPORTS

PENNANT RACES IN THE MAJOR LEAGUES ARE NOW MUCH CLOSER

Number of Reverses Made by Results of Yesterday's Games.

New York, Sept. 6.—All baseball calculations were upset today by the performance of the pennant contenders in both the American and National leagues. As the result of the Labor day doubleheaders both races now are closer than they have been since the teams entered the home stretch.

The greatest surprises of the day were the reverses suffered by both Boston teams, each of which lost two games to second division clubs, while Brooklyn climbed into second place in the National League by winning both games from the pace setting Philadelphians. The Superbas tonight are two games behind Moran's men and two games ahead of the Braves.

The Red Sox by losing both games to New York now are only a game ahead of Detroit and probably owe the retention of their position by this margin to the fact that rain prevented the Tigers from fulfilling their double bill engagement with St. Louis.

The Braves, although they still have thirty more games to play, will have to extend themselves to head off both of their rivals, and the loss of a few more games virtually would extinguish their chances of retaining the league championship. They have another game with the Giants tomorrow and then go to Ebbet's field for a three game series with Brooklyn. After having to exert themselves to the utmost to take three out of five games from the Giants and then dropping two to Brooklyn, the chance of the Phillies were not considered as excellent tonight as they were a week ago.

The Red Sox have the advantage of having to play all but four of the remaining thirty games at home, while Detroit is on the road most of the remainder of the season.

JOHNSON AND McLOUGHLIN WINNERS OF TENNIS MATCHES

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Johnson eliminated Williams, the champion, in a sensational five set match 5 to 7, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2, 6-2. McLoughlin, who already holds two legs on the all-comers' challenge bout, put out Pell at 6-2, 6-0, 7-5.

McLoughlin's victory was generally predicted, for the famous Davis cup player has outranked his opponent of today for several years, but Johnston's defeat of Wilson proved to be the biggest upset in a national tournament for several seasons. The young Californian, who was placed sixth in the 1914 ranking, while Williams was No. 2, won by a superior play and generalship and without the semblance of a fluke.

In the gruelling five set match witnessed by a holiday gallery which filled every portion of the grandstands and club house veranda, Johnston out-aced and out-placed the champion, while his errors in total were a trifle less than those made by Williams.

Philadelphia, Sept. 6.—Visiting oarsmen won eight of the sixteen events in the Middle states regatta rowed here today on the Schuylkill. New York had five victories, Washington two and Baltimore one. The Vesper club, which made the best showing of the local clubs, finished first in three events, the senior eight oared shell, and the single and double sculls.

GREENSBORO COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

To Open Wednesday—Faculty on Hand and Everything Ready.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 6.—The Greensboro College for Women will open Wednesday of this week. Nearly all members of the faculty are upon the campus and students began arriving today. Applications for rooms and matriculation indicate that the enrollment will exceed that of any previous year. The college last year was filled to capacity, but this year more rooms have been provided in residences near the college. On Tuesday, September 14, the formal exercises for the public attendant to the opening will be held. The music course has been rearranged by Director Lahser and new emphasis will be given this department of the college work.

ANOTHER WILMINGTON CASE

It Proves That There's a Way Out for Many Suffering Wilmington Folks.

Just another report of a case in Wilmington. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Wilmington with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. J. L. Blanton, 312 S. Fourth St., Wilmington, says: "Twelve years ago I was down for two weeks with inflammation of the bladder and kidneys and I suffered terribly. My kidneys were so congested that the kidney secretions were very scanty and unnatural. My back ached all the time, and I couldn't lift anything. When I got down, I could hardly straighten up again. My head felt bad and I was so dizzy that I could hardly keep from falling. I had these attacks off and on for several years, and finally I started taking Doan's Kidney Pills. The first box wonderfully benefited me. My kidneys acted regularly and my back soon felt stronger. I still take Doan's Kidney Pills, whenever my kidneys cause me any trouble, and a few doses always relieves me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy — get Doan's Kidney Pills — the same that Mrs. Blanton had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

FOR BETTER ATTRACTIONS IN THE POPULAR PRICE THEATRES

Show Men of Carolinas and Other States May Organize Circuit.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 6.—Better attractions in the popular price theatres and vaudeville shows of the Carolinas will probably follow the meeting here tomorrow of managers of theatres of this class in 14 cities of the Carolinas, Virginia and West Virginia. The proposition that will be considered is that of establishing circuits among their houses that will assure the patron bigger and better shows.

The idea was originated by Mr. L. G. Schofield, the manager of the Piedmont theatre, of this city. He has experienced quite a good deal of trouble in getting the class of shows he desires for his play house here. If the organization is formed, as soon as a poor show makes its appearance at the first play house it will be cancelled and not permitted to play in other houses of the circuit.

Among the men who will be here tomorrow are B. S. Anderson, of Raleigh; Sterling Smith, of Winston-Salem; B. A. Sparks, of Spartanburg; R. D. Craver, of Charlotte; S. T. Joliffe, of Roanoke and Lynchburg; George Hall, of Salisbury; B. H. Trent, of Lynchburg; Mr. Arrington, of Rocky Mount; Ed C. Gidley, of Charlotte; Joe Spiegelberg, of Atlanta, representing the Greenberg agency; John T. Pryor, of Danville, Va.

BOXING MATCH IN PRISON YARD

Prisoners in Joliet Penitentiary Have Real Holiday.

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 6.—Labor Day was a real holiday for the inmates of Joliet penitentiary. They were entertained by a bout between two pugilists in a regulation ring in the prison yard. Governor Dunn, incensed when he learned that the boxing bout was in prospect, telegraphed to the warden that it must be eliminated, but the telegram arrived too late.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Thedford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whittaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble.

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Thedford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

It has been in constant use for more than 70 years, and has benefited more than a million people.

Your druggist sells and recommends Black-Draught. Price only 25c. Get a package to-day. N. C. 123

Hon. F. D. Winston Presents Portrait of Judge Brooks.

Distinguished Company Attends Ceremony in Raleigh, in Which High Tribute is Paid Federal Judge of "Reconstruction" Period.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 6.—United States District Attorney Francis D. Winston presented to the United States District court here tonight a splendid oil portrait of the late Judge George W. Brooks, who served as Federal judge in this district during the "Reconstruction period," and until his death in 1882. The portrait was accepted by Judge Henry G. Connor, with high praise for Judge Brooks, whom he declared to have had the courage of his convictions to dare to assert the power of his court in opposition to the attempted usurpation of power by Governor Holden and his administration in contravention of the constitutional rights of citizens imprisoned.

Secretary R. D. W. Connor, of the State Hostirical Commission, was master of ceremonies, and Judge Connor was accompanied on the bench by Chief Justice Walter Clark and Associate Justice Platt D. Walker, of the State Supreme court. There was quite a company of distinguished people from many parts of the State present for the ceremony.

District Attorney Winston gave a most interesting story of the career of Judge Brooks and grew especially eloquent in his portrayal of the "Reconstruction" period when it became necessary for the patriots of the State, oppressed by Governor Holden and his followers, to appeal to Judge Brooks for exercise of the writ of habeas corpus, which he granted, taking from the clutches of Holden and Kirk such men as Josiah Turner and others who were fighting for the defense of their rights and protection of their homes.

He read from the Wilmington Star of 1882 an especially high editorial tribute to Judge Brooks, following his death.

The painting is presented by the children of Judge Brooks, who are Dr. George Coston Brooks, of Suffolk, Va.; James Coston Brooks, of Elizabeth City; Mrs. Harry W. West, Courtland, Va., and Mrs. George W. Cobb, Elizabeth City.

excerps from letters and memcranda forwarded by Dr. Dumba to Austria which were seized by the British naval authorities from James F. Archibald, an American newspaper correspondent who was apprehended when the steamer Rotterdam arrived at Falmouth the last of August.

Dr. Dumba declared that there was nothing in the despatches that could not be properly explained. In regard to one part of the published statement in which it was said that typewritten memoranda prepared by Dr. Dumba contained detailed information as to how big steel mills could be put out of commission, the ambassador said.

"There are thousands of citizens of Austria-Hungary working in the big steel mills at Bethlehem, Pa., and elsewhere. They are engaged in making munitions of war for the enemies of their country. This constitutes a crime against their country which is punishable by imprisonment and penal servitude should they ever return to their native land. Many of them are ignorant and do not know that they are doing wrong. It is my position to point to them that they are commiting a crime, and to do all in my power to keep them from wrong doing. It is part of an ambassador's duties to keep his countrymen out of trouble wherever he may be stationed."

W. O. W. ENCAMPMENT.

North and South Carolina Regiments Tented Near Charlotte.

Charlotte, Sept. 6. — Twenty-one companies of Woodmen of the World, comprising two regiments, representing North and South Carolina, are pitching their tents for a week's annual encampment east of the city here today. E. B. Lewis, of Kinston, N. C., is in charge of the preliminary plans of the camp.

Colonel C. L. Mather, of Omaha, Neb., will be in charge of the opening exercises. Governor Manning, of South Carolina, and Governor Craig, of North Carolina, will be honored guests Thursday, when the prize drills are held.

ARMOUR HOME IS ROBBED

Mrs. Armour and Servants Held Prisoners While Jewelry is Stolen.

Chicago, Sept. 6.—Mrs. J. Ogden Armour, wife of the prominent Chicago packer, and three women servants were held prisoners tonight by two robbers who ransacked the Armour home and escaped with $3,500 in jewelry. One intruder forced Mrs. Armour and her three maids into a room and held them there while his companions searched the house.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK.

Baton Rouge, La., Boiler Makers Have Been Out Since Thursday.

Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 6.—The 300 striking boiler makers and helpers at the local refinery of the Standard Oil Company tonight declared the strike off and agreed to return to work tomorrow morning. The men walked out last Thursday after the management had refused to reinstate four workmen discharged because of alleged incompetency. The management agreed to review the cases of the four men discharged.

WOMAN'S BEAUTY NO SECRET.

It all lies in the care she bestows upon herself and in keeping at bay those dread ills peculiar to her sex. The flashing eye, the elastic step and the clear complexion never accompany organic troubles. The distressed expression, lassitude, headaches and mental depression are only the tell-tale symptoms. Women so troubled should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that simple remedy made from roots and herbs, and restore their health to a normal condition.

REPORT ON INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS IS ENDORSED

In Labor Day Address by Secretary Frank Morrison.

"Labor Favors Preparedness, But Not the Kind That Consists of Militarism Under Another Name," He Says.

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 6.—Secretary Frank Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, in a Labor Day speech here today endorsed the recent so-called staff report of the Industrial Relations Commission with the drastic findings on industrial and social conditions.

"That report," said he, "states that a condition exists in this country which must, in your opinion, appear as a menace to our country. Contented and efficient citizenship calls for a minimum wage that will support wage earners in genuine comfort.

"In discussing militarism and preparedness, let it be understood that the labor movement is not in favor of peace at any price. Our strikes indicate there is a point in the lives of trade unionists where they gird their loins for battle rather than longer accept unbearable conditions; but be it understood that labor is alert to the kind of preparedness the steel trust, the coal barons, the railroad combines and allied interests favor. Labor sees the world of militarism concealed behind the 'little red hood' pretense of those men responsible for Ludlow, who favor Cossacks in the various states. Labor favors preparedness, but not the kind that consists of militarism under another name—huge armies, gigantic navies and other accoutrements of war that subordinate civil authority, that drain a nation's wealth.

"Labor favors preparedness, and as the first step in that direction, we demand that the killing of America's best manhood in the shops, mills and mines of our country be stopped. We stand aghast at the corpse-strewn battlefields of Europe, but let us not forget that 300,000 of our fellow countrymen engaged in gainful occupations are killed every year. And no record is made of the thousands whose systems are weakened through low wages and long hours, who are permanently crippled by rheumatism contracted in illy-ventilated coal mines, who are poisoned in the metal mines and foul work shops and factories, and who become public charges as a result of numerous occupational diseases contracted in the production of useful things.

"No system of preparedness, no logic of national defense, justifies the dwarfing and stunting of boys and girls—our future men and women. It is a false preparedness that ignores these conditions while demanding shotted guns and floating forts."

grudge. The Colonel has saved more money for the government, collected it at a less rate and a larger amount than has ever before been collected since the internal revenue commissioner's office was established.

More than nineteen millions of dollars in back taxes and oleomargarine and whiskey frauds have been turned into the Treasury by the Colonel during the past eight months. No other man has ever equalled that record nor has the government's funds been collected with as little cost to the government as the Greensboro man has done.

Walter Murphy, of Salisbury, is here returning from a business trip to San Francisco. Pete, like the Colonel, says the people throughout the West are for President Wilson. P. R. A.

GENERAL JOFFRE IN ITALY.

Visits King Immanuel and Becomes Acquainted with General Cadorna.

Rome, via Paris, Sept. 6.—A semi-official note announces that General Joffre, the French commander-in-chief, has visited Italy to be presented to King Victor Emmanuel and make the acquaintance of Lieut. Gen. Cadorna, Italian chief of staff. The king conferred on him the Grand Cross of the military order of Savoy.

General Joffre spent two days at general headquarters and inspected important points along the frontier. He arrived at Turin Friday and proceeded to general headquarters by way of Milan.

Public opinion is highly gratified at General Joffre's visit. The press remarks that the high position held by him makes the visit something more than a mere courtesy.

SOUTH CAROLINA BANKER CUTS THROAT WITH RAZOR

Edward E. Felder, of Saint George, S. C., Ends Life at Asheville.

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 6.—In a fit of despondency, believed to have been brought on by continued suffering from insomnia, Edward E. Felder, a prominent banker, of Saint George, S. C., who was spending the summer at this city with his family, ended his life today by cutting his threat with a razor. The deceased had complained recently of his inability to sleep but his relatives had no intimation of his intention to end his life. No message was left by Mr. Felder whose body was found by his wife a short time after he slashed his throat.

The coroner held no request, attending physicians stating that it was a clear cas eof suicide.

PLEADS WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Samuel Gompers Asks His Hearers to Unite With Wilson for Peace.

Marion, Ills., Sept. 6. — Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, pleaded the cause of woman's suffrage and international peace in an address here today, and asked his hearers to "unite with President Wilson for world-wide peace and the brotherhood of man."

Great labor victories, he said, are won by preparedness and by arousing unity when the need is great.

correspondent had a last glimpse of that seemingly endless column of ships still not free from the harbor on its way on an unknown errand in the North sea. Its numbers and gun power were sugestive of an Armageddon which overwhelmed the imagination, should it ever engage the German fleet.

that 250 constitutionalist soldiers were killed.

Reports persist that Carranza is preparing to leave here for Mexico City, but no official announcement to this effect has been made. It is believed he is unwilling to take this move while Zapata forces are threatening communications.

ADDS TO CONFIDENCE.

Border Situation Brightened by Carranza's Order to His Forces.

Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 6. — Announcement that General Carranza had ordered General Nafarrate, in command at Matamoras, to co-operate with United States authorities in clearing the border of bandits, and disposition of troops ordered here to strengthen the boundary patrol, strengthened confidence along the Rio Grande today.

TAFT CRITICISES POLICY OF PHILIPPINE ADMINISTRATION.

Says Governor General Harrison Knows Nothing of Islands or People.

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—Severe criticism of the administration of the Philippines by Governor General Harrison was voiced today by William H. Taft in an address before the commonwealth club of California.

Mr. Taft said that Governor Harrison whom he designated "a Tammany Congressman of long standing," knew nothing about the Philippines, their people or their problem, and that his first act was to place himself under the virtual control of Manuel Quezon, delegate to Congress from the islands and "a Filipino politician of not the highest standing in the Philippines."

Wholesale removal of experienced American officials of the government to make room for Filipino office-holders was decided upon by Governor Harrison, said Mr. Taft, after counsel with Quezon and Mr. Osmena, speaker of the national assembly.

The former president said continuation of the policy now being pursued in the islands "might eventually demand the intervention of the American government in much the same manner as the present Mexican situation."

MOST REMARKABLE RECORD

Sunday School Officer Has Not Missed a Sunday in 19 Years.

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 6.—Not a Sunday missed in 19 years is the remarkable record made by Mr. James A. Vann as treasurer of the First Baptist Sunday school, to whom an honorary service was given by the church and Sunday school yesterday, when brief addresses were made by the pastor, Rev. J. S. Snyder, who has been preaching just 19 years, and Mr. J. A. Oates, who has been the superintendent of the Sunday school for 19 consecutive years. Mr. Vann has attended Sunday school almost a thousand Sundays in succession.

INQUIRE INTO COLLISION.

Board to Fix Responsibility for Damage to Three Submarines.

Honolulu, Sept. 6.—Lieut. Commander Ellis, of the gunboat Princeton, was named chairman today of a board of inquiry to fix responsibility for a collision yesterday between the United States steamer Supply and three submarines of the F type. The steering gears of the F-1, F-2 and F-3 were damaged when the Supply attempted to dock here.

The search of the hulk of the F-4 for more dead was suspended to give the searchers a holiday.

Before Justice Bornemann.

An interesting case was settled yesterday in the office of Justice Bornemann. Alice Ownes, colored, had her husband arrested under a peace warrant. Her husband, Thornsul Owens, was charged with threatening her Saturday night. The trial had been set for 10 o'clock Monday morning. Thornsul appeared, but his wife was absent. She not being there to testify, the Justice taxed her with the costs and pronounced the case as frivolous and malicious. Before he could get a capias issued, Thornsul offered to pay up for her, and the case was settled.

NO SIGNS OF FESTIVITY.

Anniversary of Pope's Coronation Without Ceremony.

Rome, via Paris, Sept. 6.—Although today was the anniversary of the coronation of Pope Benedict XV, there were no signs of festivity in the Vatican, the pontiff not wishing to make the occasion one of rejoicing there in contrast with the general sadness of these days of war.

The high mass of thanksgiving in the Sistine Chapel was postponed to December 22.

He wins all the cash prizes at War-ren's. Come up and beat him. Can You Bowl? McCord Can. (Advertisement.)
